

Missouri Ravages Dakotas

Dikes Smashed In Three States

SOUTH SIOUX CITY, Neb., April 10 (AP).—The rampaging Missouri River has broken through a dike holding back the 19-foot-high flood crest. Flood waters are pouring through the residential section of South Sioux City, Nebraska.

Meanwhile at Pierre, south Dakota, a 25-foot crest of the Missouri surged toward the town where the muddy waters already had burst through dikes and swept into the city in the worst Missouri flood in "modern history."

Nearly 1,600 were homeless as the waters rushed in and covered a 34-block area.

PROTECT POWER PLANT

Sandbag crews worked throughout the night to raise a bulwark against the rising waters around the city's power plant.

Across the Missouri at Fort Pierre, 80 per cent of that city was under water. Furniture, lumber, cooking gas bottles and other debris floated through the main street in the back waters of the flood.

The scene was much the same along the length of the Missouri, especially in the south where it forms the boundary between Iowa and Nebraska.

A fresh company of Iowa national guardsmen were ordered to join three other companies of soldiers at Sioux City, Ia., was declared an emergency area. Mayor Ralph Henderson of Sioux City urged residents to "exert every effort to protect your families and property" because of the "unprecedented threat of floods."

The entire upper midwest in the states of Minnesota, Nebraska and the Dakotas either was flooded already or threatened with floods in its river valleys.

RECORD CRESTS

In Minnesota, the Mississippi, the Red River of the north and the La-Que-Parle River all were on the rampage, and record crests were predicted within a week. The total number of homeless in the area approached the 3,000 mark. Thousands of acres of farmland were under water.

Railways Will Seek Higher Rates—Moffat

WINNIPEG, April 10 (CP).—Possibility that the railways would seek both a further general freight rate increase and abolition of the Crow's Nest Pass rates was voiced Wednesday by R. E. Moffat, economic advisor to the Manitoba government.

He addressed Manitoba municipal, industrial and agricultural groups, assembled by Premier D. L. Campbell to review the province's position on freight rates.

Mr. Moffat said further wage increases were being sought by railway workers and that other costs had risen, so the province now may find itself "back into another rate increase case in the near future."

In addition, he read several paragraphs from the 1951 report of the C.P.R. concerning the movement of grain products in western Canada. The report noted that statutory rates for this grain were still at the 1899 levels. "The Crow's Nest Pass Agreement,"

UP-ISLANDERS SEE FLYING 'SOMETHING'

NANAIMO, April 10.—A shiny "something" leaving a long smoke trail and making a whirring noise was seen streaking across the sky north of Nanaimo Wednesday at 8 a.m. by three Northfield residents.

"I don't know if it was a flying saucer," said Mrs. R. Barton. She and her son, Joey, ran to a neighbor, Mrs. O. Ellstrom, to see the strange object in flight.

Queen Marks Easter With Alms Giving

Colorful Rites In Famed Abbey

LONDON, April 10 (AP).—The Queen today performed the colorful Easter ceremony of distributing the Royal Maundy Alms in Westminster Abbey.

Symbolically, she washed and dried the feet of 13 old men and 13 old women, chosen from among the poorest of her subjects.

Symbolically, too, she measured out linen cloth so that each of the old men might make a shirt, woolen cloth so the old women might make new gowns. Symbolically, she distributed red herring and sprats, portions of salted salmon, and gave to each four six-penny loaves of bread.

In the sunny Abbey there were no fish nor loaves, and while high ecclesiastical authorities carried golden basins, there was no water in them and the Queen actually washed no feet.

Twenty-six men and women benefited from the Royal bounty, as many as the sovereign is years of age. But there was even symbolism about the number. In the Abbey there were only six neatly brushed old men and six tidy old women. They represented the others, who will receive their alms from the Queen's messengers. Some were too feeble to come.

GIVEN MONEY

Instead of cloth, bread and assorted fish, those who received the Royal Maundy got little green, white and red leather bags. The women first got a green bag in which there was £1 15s. Each man got a white bag in which there was £2 5s. This money was in lieu of the actual cloth the paupers used to get.

The second time around red bags were distributed, each containing £2 10s in place of the fish and bread. Still another bag, a white one, containing the specially-printed Maundy Money, as many pence as the Queen is years of age.

Russia Wants Big 4 Parley On Germany

PARIS, April 10 (AP).—Russia, in its reply to the big-three western powers, has rejected the idea of a United Nations commission to investigate the possibility of free German elections and has proposed instead creation of a big-four commission. The Soviet answer, made public by the French Foreign Office this afternoon, reaffirms the Soviet point of view as set forth in its original March 10 note calling for a unified Germany and big-four talks for a German peace treaty.

Detective-Witness in Bookie Trial Is Charged

VANCOUVER, B.C., April 10 (CP).—Testimony given at Vancouver's bookmaking conspiracy trial recently has resulted in a city detective being charged before the Vancouver Police Commission.

Detective W. J. Butchart, who testified that he made more than 20,000 off-track bets during the last 24 years, has been charged with "discreditable conduct arising out of his testimony at the bookmaking trial."

He has pleaded innocent. The charge was heard Wednesday in a closed meeting and details of evidence against him and his defense were not revealed.

It was learned today Police Chief Walter Mulligan presented the case to the commissioners instead of following the usual practice of dealing with disciplinary measures himself.

The commission has reserved judgment until the next meeting April 18.

Butchart, a veteran of the gambling detail, has not been suspended but has been transferred to another branch. During the trial he told of making the 20,000 bets as a private citizen not as a police officer.

At the time it was thought he made the disclosures about the bets so as to qualify himself as an expert witness for the Crown. Although the 26 defendants were found innocent Butchart was warmly congratulated by the prosecution as "a strong witness."

British Columbia Voters Will Go to Polls June 12

Announcement Follows Meeting of Cabinet

By GORDON FORBES, Times Legislative Reporter

British Columbia's 22nd Legislature was dissolved today and Premier Byron Johnson announced the provincial general election will be held Thursday, June 12.

An order-in-council dissolving the Legislature was passed at a Cabinet meeting this morning. Nomination day will be May 22, and the voters' list will close April 30.

Dissolution of the House will swing into high gear the political campaigning which has been under way ever since the election was promised during the recent session of the House following the break-up of B.C.'s 10-year-old Coalition of Liberals and Conservatives.

It ended the life of Premier Johnson's government after two years and 10 months in office. The administration began as the Johnson-Anscomb Coalition and ended as almost wholly a Liberal government, with the support of three straight Coalitionists.

NEW DEPARTURE

The coming election will mark the first time since 1941 that Liberals and Conservatives have appealed to the electors as separate parties. In 1945 and 1949 elections they were together as Coalitionists.

It will also mark a new departure in B.C.'s political life, the use of the alternative voting system, in which voters can indicate their choice of candidates in order of preference.

It will also see the Social Credit party in the field as a major factor.

At dissolution the House membership is divided as follows: 23 Liberals, 11 Conservatives, eight C.C.F., three straight Coalitionists, one independent labor, and two independents—for a total of 48.

In the last three years, since the last election, there was only one by-election—in Esquimalt last October—the C.C.F. taking the seat from the Liberals.

Dr. J. Thomas May Succeed Head of C.C.F.

Dr. J. M. Thomas, Mount View High School principal, is being mentioned as a possible choice when British Columbia C.C.F. elects a new president this week-end in Vancouver.

President leader is Grant MacNeil who defeated Colin Cameron at the 1950 convention in Penticton, B.C. The constitution limits a president to two years. Also considered a possible choice for the presidency is Alex B. MacDonald, a Vancouver lawyer. Dr. Thomas is now first vice-president, and MacDonald is second vice-president.

Hockey Great Tory Nominee

One of ice hockey's all-time greats, Fred W. (Cyclone) Taylor, has entered politics.

A Progressive Conservative nominating meeting Wednesday night named the 67-year-old hockey great to contest the Vancouver Centre-riding in the coming election.

His running-mate in the two-seat constituency will be Allan MacDonald, 70, elected in 1945 and again in 1949 to the Legislature.

Meanwhile, the Canadian Press reports from Prince George that Law L. King will contest the Fort George riding for the Social Credit.

PREMIER JOHNSON
... Goes to the Country

CATES TO QUIT WILL NOT RUN

Labor Minister John Cates, who sat as a Coalitionist, announced officially today he will not run in the coming provincial election.

He will remain as Labor Minister until after the election, and will then resign in favor of a successor. He will devote his time to his tugboat business. Cates represents North Vancouver.

Strikers Move To Throttle Bell System

NEW YORK, April 10 (UP).—Striking Western Electric Company employees called out pickets at 1,500 telephone exchanges across the country today in an all-out effort to cripple Bell System operations in 43 states and the District of Columbia.

Leaders of the Communications Workers of America (CWA) ordered its 300,000 members not to cross the picket lines which were to be set up at 6 a.m. (local time).

The force of the extended picketing was expected to be felt mainly at long distance exchanges and where non-dial service requires the use of operators.

A spokesman for the American Telephone and Telegraph Co., parent company of the Bell System and Western Electric, said supervisory personnel would maintain service "although there may be some delays."

Joseph A. Beirne, president of the C.W.A., said in Washington that the union intended to make the four-day-old strike "just as effective as we possibly can."

Western Electric employees went on strike Monday across the country except in four New England states and Montana. Five other strikes against the Bell System also were in progress in New Jersey, Ohio, Michigan, Northern California, and at the Bell laboratories in New York City.

Children Take Flowers to Decorate Cathedral for Easter

Tiny children of Christ Church Cathedral and James Bay districts who belong to pre-primary co-operative play groups paraded to cathedral this morning to present flowers they picked themselves to be used for decorating the place of worship for Easter services. The children were accompanied by Mrs. Enid Webster, play-group supervisor, and Rev. J. J. Van der Leest, assistant to the dean at the cathedral. (Times photo.)

Traffic Channeling Is Planned For New Highway Intersection

Parson's Bridge-Langford To Get Mostly New Road

Two important points in connection with Victoria's two new major highway outlets were clarified by the public works department today.

1. At Douglas and Regina Streets—where the new Patricia Bay Highway will meet the new Island Highway—a special construction will be made to channelize traffic and remove congestion. Douglas Street from there to the city boundary will be widened to 50 feet to make a full four-lane highway.

2. The "second phase" of the new Island Highway outlet—from Parson's Bridge to Langford—will be about 50% over a "completely new route, by-passing the present congestion points. It has already been announced work will begin this year on the "first phase" of the Island Highway outlet—from Douglas and Regina, paralleling the C.N.R. right-of-way to the existing highway near Parson's Bridge.

This will include elimination of the dangerous curve just south of the Six-Mile Bridge.

DETAILS SECRET

To prevent land speculation, works officials said they cannot yet give final details of the rest of the route, beyond the assurance that 50 per cent of it will be entirely new road.

At other points, the existing highway will be widened up to Trans-Canada standards.

This, officials said, will avoid for the most part the narrow and congested points of the existing road. It is understood it will also involve construction of an entirely new bridge over Millstream, carrying the highway behind the Six-Mile House instead of in front of it as at present.

It is expected this section will rejoin the present highway near the "Chicken Coop" Restaurant, north of Langford Lake—thus by-passing the narrow gut of road beside the lake.

SET FOR 1953

The second phase is slated for construction in 1953.

In reference to the intersection of Douglas and Regina, officials said it will be "completely adequate" to handle traffic.

Traffic will be "channelized" through the intersection, and no congestion is anticipated.

The official said Douglas Street, from the city limits to the intersection, will be widened to more than 50 feet to accommodate four lanes of traffic.

The city section of Douglas Street from Fountain Circle is 68 feet in width and the actual city-owned width is 100 feet.

The provincial works department said.

Rosenthal wasn't tripped up until he attempted to cash a $1,500 cheque today and deposited another $3,500. A cashier at the bank became suspicious and called police. Moore arrested the man as he was leaving the bank.

Moore stated that Rosenthal had deposited two $15,000 cheques Tuesday, one in each of the banks, and that later investigation had shown they were drawn on banks where he had no account.

Rosenthal said he had set up the accounts and established credit at a local hotel as part of the usual front he built up before a killing.

To add to the atmosphere, he was lavishly with $1 tips at the hotel, lived in a $30-a-day suite, posed as the nephew of the late Julius Rosenberg, former chairman of the board of Sears Roebuck & Co., and spent most of yesterday looking over a $75,000 home in the exclusive Camelback Mountain area.

MURDER WEAPON MAY PROVE CLUE IN SCHUSTER DEATH

NEW YORK, April 10 (UP).—Police say they are close to cracking a puzzling murder case.

It was on March 9th that Arnold Schuster—a young pants salesman—was shot down in cold blood near his home in Brooklyn.

He was killed 19 days after giving police the tip that led to the capture of Willie Sutton, the notorious bank robber. Police finally found the gun that was used in the Schuster murder. It was traced to a Brooklyn army pier. And police say they traced it further to two longshoremen.

One of the longshoremen charged with stealing the gun is reported to have cracked after an all-night grilling.

Bolivia Revolt Reported Over; Rebels Defeated

LIMA, Peru, April 10 (AP).—A Bolivian radio broadcast said today the revolt against the military government of Gen. Hugo Ballivan was defeated and that its leaders offered to surrender.

This coincided with information received in Buenos Aires saying a battle was raging in the centre of La Paz, the Bolivian capital, and the forces of the National Revolutionary Party were being defeated.

The Bolivian embassy in Buenos Aires got its information from Africa, Chile, where first word came Wednesday that a revolution had broken out.

The rebels are backers of Victor Paz Estenssoro, exiled leader of the National Revolutionary Party who won the most votes among six candidates in last year's presidential elections but never gained office.

Brig. Gen. Antonio Seleme, interior minister in the military junta, turned against his fellow officers and helped lead the revolt which began at dawn Wednesday. At least 18 persons were killed and 60 injured during the first day's fighting.

Most of the army remained loyal to the military regime. Its forces gathered strength at the El Alto airport garrison, on a plateau 2,000 feet above La Paz, and launched a night attack by bright moonlight on the rebels in the capital city.

Gen. Hugo Ballivan, head of the government, took refuge with his garrison at the airport. The army also held Miraflores garrison in La Paz, denying the rebels stocks of guns and ammunition there.

ONE WOMAN'S DAY

By NANCY HODGES

SAYING IT WITH FLOWERS

A NEWS ITEM from London, dated March 27, recorded the arrival in the British capital of two bags of flower seeds, weighing 100 pounds, which are destined to brighten the battered, bombed sites that dot its streets.

That particular little item was tucked away in an obscure corner. It did not rate the front pages of the newspapers in British Columbia, perhaps because there was nothing sensational in it. It did not even rate big headlines—and by some journals was not even accorded any space. Yet, in my humble opinion, it was one of the most worthwhile bits of news of recent days, because of the human interest attached to it.

A BIT OF B.C.

IN THE FIRST place, it was about a gift from British Columbia, sent by the provincial government and generously donated by two British Columbia firms of seedsmen—Geo. A. Robinson and Sons, of Elk Lake, and F. O. Blake, of Lulu Island.

In the course of a chat with Mr. Robinson, I learned he chose the more popular annuals that would not entail too much care and would provide the most effective show of color and continuous bloom. That is why he included snapdragons, asters, godetia, stocks, marigolds of various kinds, foxglove, forget-me-not and gypsophylla. They will be distributed by the London Garden Society.

SIGNIFICANT SYMBOL

IN THE SECOND place, to us in Victoria, especially at this time of the year when gardens and parks are burgeoning and blossoming with the voluptuousness of a British Columbia spring, it may not be easy to evaluate the significance and symbolism of that floral gift to London's streets.

But I well recall being much moved, while in the ancient metropolis last spring and summer, by the sight of long-exiled weeds tenaciously clinging to the rubble and pathetically trying to heal the gaping wounds left by the bomb and the blitz.

OASES OF PEACE

CAVERNOUS excavations which told their tale of blasted buildings and an accompanying shocking toll of human lives, the churchyards of ruined edifices whose shattered sanctuaries and scorched walls were all that was left of once lovely places of worship, were being gradually converted into little oases of beauty and peace with flowers and shrubs.

Last year, and again this year, these little "Gardens of Remembrance" will be springing up all over London, turning the hideous, stark bombed sites into a blaze of flowers, grown with seeds sent from British Columbia.

ROYAL GERANIUMS

I MAY BE WRONG, of course, but I have always had a feeling that it was appreciation of this particular gesture of British Columbia's goodwill that prompted His Late Majesty to send us a gift of geraniums from Buckingham Palace last May.

That royal gift, flown from London, consisted of cuttings from the "Gustav Ehrlich" variety that has formed the dazzling scarlet display in front of the royal residence for many years—a scarlet which complements the brilliant tunics of the Guardsmen who are the cynosure of all eyes as they stand sentry-boys before the Palace.

SCARLET SYMBOL

THOSE GERANIUMS are now in Beacon Hill Park nurseries, awaiting the time when they will provide a blaze of scarlet to charm the frequenters of the park—and to remind them that those gay blossoms are a lovely and poignant symbol of the kindness of a great King, who, despite a serious illness and the manifold heavy burdens of State, found time to make this royal gesture of goodwill to British Columbia.

At the same time, I hope those royal geraniums will also remind passersby of those in London who, as they watch the miracle of Nature covering with blossoms the unsightly wounds left during "Britain's finest hour," will take courage and comfort anew from British Columbia's floral message of friendship and understanding.

VETERAN EDUCATOR

Alexander Robinson Burial Rites Saturday

Dr. Alexander Robinson, the grand old man of education in British Columbia, will be buried in Victoria Saturday.

Ninety years of age, Dr. Robinson died Wednesday at his home, 1900 Argyle.

He had a brilliant academic career.

Dr. Robinson was born at Saint John, N.B., and graduated from Dalhousie University, which in 1912 conferred on him an honorary doctorate of laws. He became principal of Vancouver's first secondary school in 1890, and three years later first principal of the first Vancouver High School.

For 21 years he was B.C.'s superintendent of education. He also was principal of Victoria High School for two years, and spent the latter part of his active years with the staff of Oak Bay High School, retiring in 1943.

Dr. Robinson was instrumental in the establishment of the University of British Columbia.

He is survived by his widow, Emma, at home; a son, H.L., in Vancouver; five daughters, Mrs. H. C. Odendahl, Hurley, N.M.; Mrs. Clarence Mann, Victoria; Mrs. A. Watson, California; Mrs. David McKenzie, London, Eng.; Mrs. C. A. Milloy, Victoria, and 10 grandchildren. Three great-grandchildren also survive.

Funeral services will be held at 3:15 p.m. Saturday at McCall Bros. Funeral Home, Rev. Canon C. W. Downer officiating. Burial will be in Royal Oak Burial Park.

Student Is Acquitted of Manslaughter

Jury Deliberates
Only 20 Minutes

Young Victoria College student John Richard Lauder, 1919 Rockland, was acquitted by an Assize Court jury Wednesday after being tried for manslaughter in connection with the Jan. 5 traffic death of Yee Jack Wo in the middle of Chinatown.

The jury returned its verdict of not guilty after only 20 minutes' deliberation.

Jury members went against the final submission of Crown Counsel Joseph McKenna who had urged conviction of the accused.

McKenna in his address to the jury pointed to the increasing number of motor deaths in this vicinity. He observed that Lauder was one of four persons before the current Assize sitting in connection with auto fatalities.

"This is only a small community," McKenna argued, "but I think we are getting calloused to these things."

Lloyd G. McKenzie, defense counsel in the case, submitted that because of "Wo's dark clothing and the poor illumination, Lauder could not see the accident victim."

He suggested the Chinese was crossing the intersection of Government and Fisgard diagonally and was struck while in the centre of the intersection where illumination from street lights was particularly poor.

CARE ASKED

Wild Lilies Disappearing From City

Wild lilies are fast disappearing from the Victoria scene.

Parks Administrator W. H. Warren today appealed for protection of all wild flowers, particularly the lily.

At the same time, he cautioned people to remember during Easter holiday outings that picking wild flowers in public parks, including Mount Douglas and Thetis, "is prohibited in order to preserve nature's spring show for future generations."

Warren said the wild lilies once grew in great profusion around Victoria. Now the last stand can be seen at the Truth Centre on Fort in a portion of Uplands and in Beacon Hill.

"They only reproduce from seed," said Warren explaining the disappearance. "Other bulbs like daffodils and tulips multiply by making small bulbs."

"The wild lily makes only one bulb and it is easily destroyed," Warren said. Pulling lilies with the stem and leaves deprives the bulb of its means of living and it dies in every case, he said.

FLYING ENTERPRISE (II), CARLSEN PUT TO SEA AGAIN

MOBILE, Ala., April 10 (AP).—Capt. Kurt (Stay-Put) Carlsen today gets a new ship with an old name, the Flying Enterprise II.

The doughty skipper, who thrilled the world with his stand against the hurricane-whipped North Atlantic last January, is eager to get to sea again.

He takes command of the Flying Enterprise II today with some of his old crew. Carlsen's employer, the Isbrandtsen line, recently bought the 10,600-ton freighter Noonday from Waterman Steamship Corp. and re-christened her.

Mexico Battles Livestock Plague

MEXICO CITY, April 10 (AP).

Mexico City Wednesday launched a nationwide campaign against a cattle disease spread by vampire bats.

Veterinarians reported to President Miguel Aleman that deranged, the cattle plague carried by bloodsucking bats, has made its appearance in many areas.

The President ordered vaccine against the disease put on sale at a discount.

Truce Negotiators Just Meet and Adjourn

MUNSAN, Korea, April 10 (AP)—For the fifth straight day truce negotiators made no move toward ending the fighting in Korea.

They met and adjourned. That was all. Today's session lasted six minutes. That brought the grand total for five meetings this week to 30 minutes and 30 seconds.

Chinese Maj.-Gen. Hsieh Fang said today the Communists had no objection to moving truce supervision negotiations back from the sub-delegation level to the staff officer level if the Allies want to do it.

Condensed from CP, AP, and UP Dispatches

SHARED—In Paris, France, 50 years ago a Paris subway official wrote this notice: "In case of a prolonged stop between the stations there is deadly danger of getting out of line."

Now the words, posted for many years in subway stations, have been set to music and are a vaudeville hit. But the French Performing Rights Society has intervened to say that royalties of the song must be shared with the subway official who wrote the notice—if he is still alive.

SUGGESTION—In Regina, Saskatchewan, Minister James G. Gardiner stirred a suggestion that a $1,000,000 bridge, that collapsed last week-end, be built too hurriedly.

Gardiner told 700 delegates at the annual convention of the Saskatchewan Liberal Association that "when we build the South Saskatchewan River dam, there won't be any fears it will tumble into the river."

He said the federal government "won't be in such a hurry to rush construction of the $125,000,000 project only to find it has gone out. We'll put it in so it will stay in, not like that bridge that went out."

FRAMED—In Springfield, O., William H. Thorne got his federal income tax refund Wednesday—a cheque for one penny.

He decided not to deposit the cheque in the bank, because that would cost 3 cents. He'll frame it instead.

AGREED—The federal and Saskatchewan governments have agreed to finance construction of 75 subsidized rental housing units in Moose Jaw.

The resources department announced today that work on the houses will start shortly. The project is the first to be undertaken under joint arrangements between the federal and Saskatchewan governments.

The agreement calls for the construction of 69 three-bedroom houses and 10 two-bedroom units at a cost of approximately $9,870 each. The minimum average rent will be $10 a month.

BASKING—Allied infantrymen basked in warm spring sunshine today as United Nations aircraft hammered Red supply lines and installations in North Korea.

Action along the battle front continued light. A United States Eighth Army briefing officer said Wednesday was one of the most inactive since mid-February. The temperature went above 80 for the first time this year Wednesday and continued warm today.

MAJOR—In Ottawa the defense department said today Canada made "major strides" in development of arms and explosives since the war.

The statement was made in announcing the scientist mainly responsible is going back to his university job.

He is Prof. Charleton Craig, 42, of Montreal, one of Canada's outstanding weapons experts, who has been superintendent of the armament research and development establishment at Valcartier, Que., for three years.

He is going back to McGill University and will be succeeded by Dr. Hugh Massey Barrett, chief superintendent of another important establishment of the defense research board—the chemical warfare experimental station at Suffield, Alta.

CURE—In St. Albans, England, a shotgun blast that wounded a burglar really did him a good turn—it cured his thyroid gland disorder, his lawyer told a court Wednesday.

The defendant, 34-year-old Frederick Thompson, needed an operation on his thyroid, but then he was shot in the back of the neck by a householder who caught him climbing through a window.

"By some curious paradox, the shooting seems to have done something to the man's thyroid," his lawyer said. He brought along a medical report to show Thompson had been suddenly cured.

Judge J. Neville Gray was impressed by the shotgun cure. But he said he also had a cure for the man's window-climbing tendencies—four years imprisonment.

WIND UP—A dispute in the Nova Scotia House over operation of a provincially-owned coal mine was the only road-block Wednesday to a drive-by-four provincial Legislatures to wind up their business before the Easter week-end.

A charge that the government used the mine for political purposes was made by Robert L. Stanfield, Progressive Conservative Opposition leader, in the Nova Scotia House, expected to prorogue today.

The Prince Edward Island Legislature finished off its business Wednesday and prorogued while the Ontario Legislature sat far into the night to clear its slate. It will prorogue today.

VALUABLE MINES

The great nickel-bearing ores around Sudbury, Ont., also contain large quantities of copper, plus gold, silver and other metals.

OTTAWA SETS 25 CENT BEEF FLOOR PRICE

Demand Free Hand In Market Control

OTTAWA, April 10 (AP)—The federal government Wednesday announced a 25-cent-a-pound price support program for beef and a spokesman said the provinces have agreed to relinquish livestock marketing responsibility.

The federal floor, basis delivery of "good" quality steers at Toronto, is expected to stabilize beef at approximately current prices, from producer to consumer. The floor fluctuates across Canada.

The federal government move, announced in the Commons by Robert McCubbin, parliamentary assistant to Agriculture Minister J. G. Gardiner, virtually signaled an end to market-crippling provincial livestock embargoes imposed following announcement February 25 of an outbreak of foot-and-mouth disease in south Saskatchewan.

However, at Victoria, B.C. Agriculture Minister Harry Bowman said B.C. will take no action to remove restrictions at least until after a federal-provincial market-handling meeting here next Tuesday. British Columbia will be represented by Dr. W. R. Gunn, provincial livestock commissioner.

FREE HAND

Price support was contingent on the provinces giving the federal government a free hand in controlling marketing. Mr. McCubbin told the Commons that a special federal market management committee, with the provinces as advisers, will deal with operating policy.

Experts disclosed that the federal marketing plan envisioned "marketing direction" to prevent a possible pile-up of beef surplus in any local market.

Canada Signs Japanese Peace Treaty

OTTAWA, April 10 (CP)—The Commons quietly and unanimously Wednesday approved the Japanese peace treaty, although two party leaders gave only qualified support.

Since the Senate has already endorsed it, Canada thus becomes the seventh of 11 signatories to give the treaty full parliamentary approval.

It will come into effect as soon as Pakistan or Canada deposits the documents of ratification in Washington. Pakistan's parliamentary approval came a week or so ago.

The United States, the United Kingdom, New Zealand, Australia and Ceylon have approved the treaty and notified Washington of their ratification. The next country to do so will bring the required majority of six.

Outbreak of Bubonic Plague in Uganda

KAMPALA, Uganda, April 10 (AP)—A bubonic plague outbreak in the Belgian Congo has jumped the border and caused six deaths in a Uganda frontier district, British authorities said Wednesday. Medical teams are disinfecting native huts and killing rats with poison gas in an attempt to control the plague.

B.C. TO GET GAS

Alberta House Approves Plan

EDMONTON, April 10 (CP)—The Alberta Legislature today approved the Social Credit government's decision to allow gas export from the Peace River District.

Shortly before midnight members adopted a motion approving the Provincial Conservation Board's recommendation that a permit be issued to Westcoast Transmission Company to take natural gas from the designated section of Alberta's northwest corner.

Earlier the legislature defeated amendments from both the Liberal and C.C.F. groups who opposed export.

The Liberal amendment asked the government to refuse to allow the export. The C.C.F. amendment asked the government to delay approval of the board's recommendation. A Liberal sub-amendment to the C.C.F. amendment asked that approval be delayed until the Supreme Court of Canada could decide on the Provincial Gas Resources Preservation Act.

MOST IMPORTANT

After debating 7½ hours on a subject which many members agreed was the most important ever to come before the House, members on a recorded vote approved 41-4 the government motion sponsored by Premier E. C. Manning.

U.S. Produces Atomic Gun Claim

NEW YORK, April 10 (AP)—Time Magazine said Wednesday the United States has an atomic cannon and that this big gun is in production.

It fires an atomic bomb, but this account does not say whether any have been exploded.

The story claims the army and the Atomic Energy Commission confirmed this week that an imitation bomb was exploded in exercise "Longhorn" in Texas and as a result of this one shell the umpires ruled 1,600 men were put out of action.

U.K. Theatres Lift Ban on Hecht Films

LONDON, April 10 (AP)—Britain's movie houses Wednesday lifted a four-year ban on films written or directed by Ben Hecht. The Cinematograph Exhibitors' Association had refused to show any films the American author was connected with because he said in published ads in 1947 he "had a little holiday" in his heart every time a British soldier was killed in the Palestine fighting.

Steel Production Starts; Industry Fights Seizure

WASHINGTON, April 10 (AP)—The United States steel industry, preparing anew to fight government seizure in the courts, began heating up cooked furnaces today for full-scale production.

Wednesday night, less than 24 hours after President Truman's dramatic seizure in the face of a threatened strike by 650,000 workers, heads of the $8,000,000,000 industry assured Commerce Secretary Charles Sawyer he could count on return to normal production as soon as possible.

But while steel production was gradually resumed, there was no letup in attacks by the steel industry on Truman's seizure order.

In an angry attack on Truman and C.I.O. President Philip Murray, a top industry official said seizure "discharges a political debt to the C.I.O."

Clarence B. Randall, president of the Inland Steel Company, told a national radio and television audience that "if any man now threatens safety for lack of steel, that man's name is Phil Murray."

Officials of the United Steelworkers of America, of which Murray is also president, said the attack was "so extreme and unwarranted as not to deserve a reply."

Randall carried the same angry tone into a telegram he sent to Sawyer, government-appointed boss of the industry, saying his company intends to "seek protection from the courts of rights guaranteed to it by the constitution and laws of the United States."

His telegram promised a bitter legal battle between the steel companies and the government which might be fought right up to the supreme court.

WASHINGTON, April 10 (AP)—The steel industry met with a new setback today in its court fight against government seizure of its mills.

Lawyers for the major companies—Bethlehem, Republic, Youngstown Sheet and Tube, and Jones and Laughlin—pleaded in vain in U.S. district court for immediate hearings of their suits for an injunction.

Judge David A. Pine ruled that he could not advance the suits under court rules. The rules allow 20 days for the defendant—in this case the government—to reply to a suit.

"It makes such a difference"

Mrs. Helen V.... was so pleased by the courteous treatment she received from a bank teller during a holiday trip that on her return home she wrote:

"It was really a pleasure to transact my modest banking affairs with you and I think the bank is very lucky to have such a charming and welcoming young woman with them. It makes such a difference when one is travelling to feel so at home."

At your own local branch, at any branch of any bank, you will find bank people going out of their way to look after you, efficiently and courteously. That is the way the chartered banks compete with each other for your business.

Texas Expert May Inspect Arena Roof

Proposal of Mayor Claude Harrison that a roofing authority from Dallas, Texas, inspect Memorial Arena's barrel roof is now in the hands of City Council's arena committee.

The mayor told City Council Wednesday the Dallas man would come at no expense to the city. He could view the roof with other local roofers, the mayor suggested.

The mayor recommended also that tenders be called for waterproofing the roof with an aluminum surface. A 10-year guarantee would be required with yearly inspection.

In a letter to council, the mayor quoted Henry Whittaker, architect, as stating the roof was not constructed according to specifications.

"If rain gets into the cracks that are now appearing everywhere, next winter may bring a break-up of the roof surface," he quoted Whittaker.

FEARS "INJUSTICE"

After aluminum and Flint Kote peeled off the roof of the barrel, leaks occurred, Whittaker said. Insul Mastic Co. then did a 50-foot strip at the top of the roof with their product.

"It is this strip that is now showing some blisters, which must be rectified."

The mayor asked council to delay work on waterproofing the arena roof, authorized last November, until an inspection report from the Texas authority is received. Otherwise he feared "an injustice will be done to local contractors."

They had complained that specifications for waterproofing prevented them from tendering on the job. The mayor quoted Whittaker as saying no tenders were called and that Insul Mastic had been told to go ahead with the work.

5-HOUR REIGN

Crown May Queen Last Day of Month

Esquimalt's 1952 May Queen will have one of the shortest reigns in history. She will rule for only five hours.

The queen will not be crowned until 7 p.m. on the last day of the month during which she should be monarch.

The coronation ceremony will be held in Memorial Park and will be staged by the Esquimalt Community Club.

Reason for having the crowning so late is because of the period of state mourning for King George VI does not end until May 31.

The Esquimalt committee handling the event points out that by 7 p.m. here on that day, the mourning period will be officially ended in the United Kingdom.

The May Queen will be a girl from Lampson Street School. Pupils of the school will pick the girl themselves through a ballot system.

In a closely fought contest, Esquimalt Liberal Association Wednesday night nominated Geoffrey Edgelow, well-known business man, to represent the riding in the coming provincial election.

Edgelow, who is president of the View Royal Liberal Association, beat out Esquimalt Council George Argyle by a vote of 129 to 99. Three sets of balloting were required to name a winner.

On the first count, the voting went this way: Edgelow, 95; Argyle, 70; John Coates, 58, and Lieut. Com. Edgar Jamieson, 9. The latter was dropped from the second vote and the results were Edgelow, 104; Argyle, 74, and Coates, 54. Coates' name was dropped and the meeting, attended by about 230 persons, voted 129-99 in favor of Edgelow.

As the Liberal choice, Edgelow will be pitted against Robert Fort, Progressive-Conservative candidate; Frank Mitchell, C.C.F., and William Chant, Social Credit.

PUBLISHING BUSINESS

Forty-year-old Edgelow is publisher of several magazines, chief among them Island Events, a weekly, devoted to development and betterment of Vancouver Island.

During the last war he was in the Canadian army and was wounded during the Normandy fighting.

Edgelow is a director of the chamber of commerce and chairman of its tourist trade group. He is a past president of the Laurier Club, a past president of the Victoria Rotary Club, a member of the Canadian Legion, Army, Navy and Air Force Club, Elks, Capital City Commercial Club, Victoria Passenger's Association and the Victoria and Colwood riding clubs.

"GET OUT AND FIGHT"

Edgelow, who was nominated by Earl Briggs, said Liberals will have to "get out and fight from tonight on."

"We will win if we get out and fight fairly," he declared. "The Liberal government is a sound business government. We are the centre road party—neither moving to left nor right."

Coates, a navy veteran, predicted the coming campaign will be one of the bitterest in history. He said too many people don't know the difference between Liberals and Conservatives, and "it is up to us to tell them."

Argyle, who led the polls in the Esquimalt municipal elections last December, said B.C. must have a Liberal government to attract investment, and take care of the individual's needs.

Lieut. Com. Jamieson, a two-war veteran, urged construction of a West Coast road and said Esquimalt is "worthy of the prospectors' attention." He felt the whole territory is worth geological study.

Arthur Ash, Saanich M.L.A., and Capt. D. J. Proudfoot, Victoria M.L.A., addressed the meeting briefly.

NOTICE OF FIRING PRACTICE

Anti-Aircraft Firing Practice will be conducted from the vicinity of ALBERT HEAD as follows:

16 APRIL: 52-1330 hours to 1530 hours

16 APRIL: 52-1330 hours to 1530 hours

Saskatchewan Plant Fire Loss $100,000

PALEO, Sask., April 10 (CP).—Fire of undetermined origin destroyed a sodium sulphate factory here Wednesday and caused an estimated $100,000 damage.

The plant, owned by Mid-West Chemical Limited, was located at a small community about 70 miles northwest of Saskatoon.

The one-story frame structure was razed within 30 minutes by a blaze fed by spraying oil from a pipeline which fed kilns in the plant. A heavy loss in machinery was suffered.

No one was injured.

The plant had been producing about 120 tons of sodium sulphate daily for shipment to the southern United States and eastern Canada.

Ask Better Finance

WINNIPEG, April 10 (CP).—The National House Builders' Association in a resolution Wednesday asked the federal government to make better mortgage finance available under the National Housing Act.

The association's annual convention concluded on Wednesday. The 1953 convention will be held in Toronto.

In other resolutions the association asked the federal government and provincial governments be urged to assume the entire cost of education and social services. This would encourage house building in sufficient quantity to meet current needs.

The association also asked the federal and provincial governments share their revenue sources with municipalities.

Should Aid Britain

SASKATOON, April 10 (BUP).—The member of parliament for Lake Centre, Sask., John Diefenbaker, believes the time has come for Canada to support Britain in her hour of need.

Canada, says Diefenbaker, could spend between $80,000,000 and $100,000,000 of its defense budget in Britain. Using these dollars, he says, Britain could purchase goods in Canada.

Diefenbaker says Britain has been forced by the dollar shortage to secure coal grain and lumber from Communist countries.

Worley, Ald. Smith Expected to Seek Social Credit Nomination in City

Ron Smith and Ald. Donald Smith, both former Liberals, are expected to seek the Social Credit nomination in the city of Victoria.

The S.C.'s nominating meeting will be held April 15.

Worley and Smith today declined to comment on reports in political circles that they will be nominees. Each, however, is expected to make an announcement this week-end.

Expected to seek the third nomination with the S.C.'s is E.D. McEwan, Vancouver Island organizer for the party. He was unavailable for comment today.

Worley is a past president of the Victoria County Young Liberals and Ald. Smith was an executive member. Worley also was secretary of the B.C. Young Liberals, a director of the Laurier Club and vice-president of the Victoria Liberal Association. He is now chairman of the S.C.'s Vancouver Island Area Council, and president of Group 2 in Victoria.

W. N. Chant, former agriculture minister in the Alberta government, already has been chosen Esquimalt's S.C. candidate in the coming election.

The party will hold its provincial convention in New Westminster April 26.

Mayor Harrison Will Attend Calgary Convention

Mayor Claude Harrison will attend the annual conference of the Canadian Federation of Mayors and Municipalities at Calgary June 29 to July 3.

The motion passed quietly and unanimously at city council meeting Wednesday, in contrast to the recent controversy about civic representation at Calgary.

Proposal of the mayor to send only the solicitor to the U.B.C.M. annual parley at Vernon did not meet with council approval.

Neither did his suggestion that only one alderman and the solicitor attend the Vancouver Island Municipalities Association meeting.

Both items were laid on the table for further consideration but not before several aldermen protested.

Ald Waldo Skillings said it would be a disservice to the city to send only the solicitor to the U.B.C.M. The very name, he said, implied elected representatives. He felt at least two aldermen and the city manager should go.

He agreed the city did not need to send a seven-man delegation as last year.

The mayor felt it a "waste of money" to send a full voting delegation of five aldermen, plus the manager and solicitor. In view of the fact that Victoria hopes to prepare a private charter for the fall session of the Legislature, he felt it inadvisable to take full part in the U.B.C.M. deliberations.

Attendance of any civic officials at the annual conference of the Municipal Officers' Association at Victoria June 19 and 20 April 17 on behalf of the city.

Council Backs Town Planners' Zoning Stand

Town Planning Commission's rejection of Deluxe Cleaners' rezoning plea was upheld by City Council Wednesday by a 6-3 vote. Ald. Waldo Skillings' negative vote prevented council from hearing A. H. Burns, solicitor for the applicant, at the outset of the meeting. He said the matter had been thoroughly reviewed over the past year.

Ald. Donald Smith later protested the T.P.C. rejection and said they were misinformed as to actions of other cities concerning installation of this particular type of plant. Deluxe Cleaners sought rezoning of the northeast corner of Pandora and Cook to install a cleaning plant using noninflammable fluids.

Playwrights Heretical In Shakespeare's Time

BY E. M. JOHNSON

This second in the series of four lectures on the history of drama, presented at the Arts Centre on Moss Street, dealt with the progress of theatre from the Renaissance to Restoration.

Ian Thorne introduced his subject by placing particular emphasis on the playwrights of the period.

He pointed out that during the British theatre's early struggles, the church disapproved of players and plays, using every excuse to quench the activity. Christopher Marlowe, the contemporary of Shakespeare, was particularly noted for his heresy.

An excerpt from his play, "Faustus," was presented as a demonstration of ability. In it Bruce Barnard took the part of Faustus, G. Mathews the part of Mephistopheles and Miss S. Laundry the dual role of dancing girl and wife. The atmosphere of this act was excellent.

In dealing with Elizabethan theatre, Thorne presented a section of Ben Jonson's "The Alchemist" over the public address system.

It was unfortunate that difficulties with the microphone destroyed some of the unity of this work, so ably done by G. Peter, Bruce Barnard and Gordon Mathews. A selection from John Webster's "The White Devil" further portrayed Elizabethan melodrama. In it were Olive Keane, Ian Thorne and Ruth Miller.

In carrying this history through to the Restoration period, two more examples were presented. Part of Milton's "Comus" and a selection from Congreve's "Love for Love." It is notable that all these small presentations were excellently costumed and expertly produced.

Much credit for the success and for smoothness of continuity goes to the back-stage work and directive organization of this company.

BACK in '39 when war broke out a long-legged young giant put on seven-league boots. He's been going fast and far ever since. Today, he's hastening toward horizons that, only yesterday, lay beyond his very dreams.

Progress has its problems, though, for big boots come expensive... especially the wear and tear. That's part of the picture, too, our giant found.

But the bright colors easily shine through the dark... in the picture of these twelve years since Canada donned the seven-league boots of dynamic progress.

You'll find that whole picture in a Special Supplement inside the current edition of the Bank of Montreal's Business Review. The one-page Supplement gives the figures—the four-page Review, the facts. Yet you see the complete picture—of twelve event-packed years in which a young nation not only fought its full share of a world war but rose to a position of economic power never before enjoyed by a people so few in number.

If you want the basic facts on Canada's recent economic past—plus a reasoned appraisal of her prospects, you'll find good reading in the B of M's March Business Review. New D.V.A. Hospital block open . . . home and friends.

'OLD SWEATS' NOT FORGOTTEN

Veterans' Wing Opening Finds All Beds Filled

By ROY THORSEN
The Canadian government has not forgotten the "old sweats" who took up arms for their country.

This was evidenced Wednesday afternoon when the new $375,000 wing to the Victoria Veterans' Hospital on Richmond Road was opened for older war veterans requiring temporary treatment or domiciliary care.

For some of them this will be "home" until their days are ended.

The wing is located on the south side of the original $1,000,000 hospital building. It's a two-story block with 66 beds—every one of them now occupied, hospital officials reported.

H.M.C.S. Naden band played in the simple opening ceremony. The ceremony was attended by invited persons only. Officials of veterans' organizations formed a large part of the crowd. Women's auxiliaries of veterans' groups attended from as far north as Courtenay, including a strong delegation from Nanaimo.

Major Stanley Okell, assistant district administrator for the D.V.A.—covering the Island—cut the tape to open the new wing. He said: "We should appreciate any government that has taken such fine steps as this to care for our sick and wounded ex-servicemen and women."

The wonderful "homey and friendly spirit" in the hospital was due to the fine community spirit of many organizations and splendid operations of the staff from top level down, he said.

City to Hear Experts Talk On Efficiency

City Council took the first step on the road to a job survey at City Hall Wednesday.

It agreed to meet as a committee of the whole representatives of the whole representatives of management engineers, and any similar organization, on a proposed survey of the city's services.

The meeting may take place next week. Council wishes to find out how it can increase efficiency and get the most value for the civic dollar.

Ald. Jim Neely echoed sentiments expressed at an earlier executive committee meeting, when he said every alderman should agree to implementation of recommendations beforehand. "The public is tired of investigations that are pigeon-holed," he said.

Executive committee originally asked for authority to interview the management engineers. The five junior aldermen, however, felt the full council should be in on the meeting.

Ald. William Pinfold said the city was not "committing itself" by having the interview. Ald. Frank Mulliner stressed that a municipal expert should do the survey.

CIRCUMSCRIBED

Mayor Claude Harrison, referring to the 1949 efficiency survey by Stevenson & Kellogg, said one of the firm's representatives told him the company was advised "not to go further." An accompanying report on department heads was not made public, Ald. Waldo Skillings said.

Norman Howard, account executive with Stevenson & Kellogg, wrote the mayor suggesting an examination be carried out of organization, procedures and practices in the accounting and public works department.

This would be done with a view to determining whether economies could be effected and methods improved, he said. Fees are on the basis of $2,000 a month per man with travelling and incidental expenses extra.

The 1949 report by his company, he said, was "not an economy study but an examination of the whole civic operation."

MAYHEW REGRETS

A message from Fisheries Minister Robert W. Mayhew, expressing regret he could not attend the opening, was conveyed to the gathering. Mr. Mayhew officiated at the opening of the original hospital five years ago.

"Nobody in Canada is more of a friend of war veterans than our own Bob Mayhew," was the tribute from George Derby, western regional administrator for the Department of Veterans Affairs. Mr. Derby was grateful to citizens generally for their "sustained efforts" which had brightened the lives of ex-servicemen requiring attention at the government hospital.

Included in the gathering were seven members of the now defunct women's auxiliary of the Tubercular Veterans' Association, who gave their remaining funds to provide eight tables for the new wing. They were Mrs. F. E. Clark, Mrs. J. T. Adams, Mrs. R. G. Hall, Mrs. R. S. Standerwick (last president), Mrs. R. V. Campbell (last secretary), Mrs. L. M. Sylvester and Mrs. T. Fulthorpe.

The hospital will be open for public inspection on May 14 during national "Hospital Week."

Discrimination Charged by Neely In Plan to Defer City Wage Increases

Ald. Jim Neely laid a blistering barrage down at City Council meeting Wednesday over a plan to defer payment of wage increases to department heads.

He called it discrimination, and said he could not understand what council "is thinking."

Council's executive committee Tuesday proposed that recommendation of City Manager Cecil Wyatt for payment of increases to senior officials be deferred until after a proposed job survey is completed.

Ald. Neely said it was not fair. He wanted the report adopted. Council had just approved increases for the public health nurses and had already granted boosts to the inside and outside staff.

He felt some officials now in the top group might be related to second or third groups after a job survey.

Ald. Macmillan's motion that the public health nurses' application for increases through the Registered Nurses' Association, be not entertained, owing to late arrival, was lost.

Mr. Wyatt asked council for direction since the association filed beyond the deadline.

When council approved consideration of wage requests, Mr. Wyatt recommended the scale proposed by the association. He said it was being accepted nationally. Ten nurses are affected.

JAKE LAMOTTA DECISIONS HAYES IN WILD SWINGFEST

DETROIT, April 10 (AP)—Jake LaMotta outslugged young Norman Hayes in a wild-swinging 10-round bout Wednesday night to gain a unanimous decision. It was LaMotta's 100th fight over a 12-year pro career.

The Bronx Bull, former middleweight champion, waited until the late moments of each round to open up on Hayes who outpointed him in Boston in January. LaMotta weighed 167½, Hayes 162.

The crowd of 6,204 roared to its feet in the 10th round when LaMotta wobbled Hayes with a jolting left to the head. But the Boston youth danced backwards out of danger.

On the OUTDOOR FRONT

By ROY THORSEN

If the weather continues as good as it is as this is being written (Wednesday evening) those anglers who have a long holiday Easter weekend ahead of them can expect a fair band of fishing in lake and stream.

That was the consensus from our experts in the fresh water rod-reel sport.

The biggest concentration of anglers, however, is expected in Saanich Inlet where the two and three-pound bluebacks are still around in good numbers, and some springs. They seem to prefer bucktail flies. Some are being taken on abalone and Tom Mack spoons. They are biting at any time of day.

Upper Cowichan River should be a magnet for many trout anglers this holiday weekend, especially after the published picture of the two-day 48-limit-catch by Jack Roach and Gordy Lamont last week-end.

Stan Williams and Frawnie Morse literally flew up to these waters Monday after viewing the catch in the hope that they could duplicate it.

Thorsen: "But we got a goose-egg. Fish were all around us and I tried every lure possible to catch 'em, but no score," said Williams. Both tied into fish but couldn't boat them.

At Dougan Lake (also known as Roger's Lake) in the Cobble Hill area on Tuesday, Victoria's well-known Johnny Wenger returned home with the best possible, a limit of 12 trout. He caught half on Professor fly and the rest on a small spoon.

Sportsmen Score Partial Victory

By the way, Wenger is afraid that the use of outboard motors on small craft in Dougan Lake is going to spoil fishing, especially for the fly experts.

"With motors roaring in such a small body it's bound to have a detrimental effect on fishing," he claimed. (Look elsewhere on these pages for island trout fishing reports from game wardens).

We hear on the best authority that recognized cougar hunters—those with dogs and who take the trail when a cat is reported in an area—will get a $20 bonus in addition to the $20 bounty on making a kill.

"We are going carefully on this. All people we consider in this category are being screened before we give them the okay," said Inspector George Stevenson.

Their precautions are to guard against some friend in another area handing his cougar pelt over to a recognized cougar hunter so that a total of 40 could be netted. Before the war the bounty was $40 per kill for anyone.

Fred Hughes, past-president of the Victoria Fish and Game Protective Association, this week advised members that they should gun for a 10-day extension of the Black Brant season. He said "we've got a good chance to get this following a game meeting in the State of Washington, recently."

Logging Petition Gets Backing

Club meeting held at the Goldstream clubhouse Monday was informed that fish-game association's petition protesting the log-storage plan at Sidney Island Lagoon is receiving a good reception from the public at local sporting goods stores. Ray Ritchie, club proxy, reported that one petition had been returned with three pages full of names "and it came back to us only because there was no room for other names."

Bruce Winsky, club secretary and director of the B.C. Fish and Game Council, told the meeting that the government had given the council a $5,000 annual grant to pay for the services of a secretary and other more minor expenses involved in the organization's operations.

Roger Monteith reports that Stan Jones, Langford, fishing with Jack Middleton last Sunday in Saanich Inlet, hooked a shark. The shark went after the blueback he had hooked. The result was that Jones lost a portion of his line and the lure. However, the pair boated 15 blues and three big bass.

Catches at the inlet this week:

GOLDSTREAM—Jack Cornthwaite, 12-lb. spring, 6 blues on abalone spoon with three ounces of weight; Pat McLean, 7-lb. spring on small plug, two ounces of weight.

Bob Harman, 10 blues; Lorne and Sophie Heglin fished four days. They got 20 blues on Friday, 19 on Sunday and 11 and 13 the other two mornings. Cliff Heglin caught his limit of 10 Thursday and Sunday. Mrs. Marie McLean of Los Angeles fished Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday and caught eight blues each time out.

Other catches: Bill Johnston, 10; Tiny Richards and T. Myron, 18; G. F. Daisin and party, 16; Kathie Williams and Winnie Silburn, 14; R. G. Huddleston and C. R. James, limits each of 10 on two days; Charles Guilguit, 10.

Bob Cowan and P. A. Dahl, 14; Fred Tull and L. Reynolds, 15; Mr. and Mrs. George Beale, 9; A. C. Perry and S. Jakeman, 7; Fred Curle and Pat McLean, 16; P. J. Russell, Dr. J. K. Brimacombe from Weyburn, Sask., 16; C. M. Woolard and C. James, 17; C. O. Dunaway, 7; Fred Sparks and Jack Blake, 14; Mrs. F. Sparks and Jack Sparks, 9; B. Croft, 8; E. S. Jones and Jack Middleton, 15, and Thew and partner, 10.

BRENTWOOD—Bert Sothorn, 15-lb. spring; Steve Kinsey, two small springs, four blues; Bob Robinson and son, 9 blues. Mr. and Mrs. Jack Morrill, 7 blues; Desmond Carter, one spring, four blues; Mark Nichols, 1 spring and 2 blues; Arthur Rhodes and Dr. Paul, seven blues. Average catch three to a boat.

HABS HAVE HURDLE

Wings Rate as 9-5 Favorites

MONTREAL, April 10 (CP)—Detroit Red Wings, the powerful hockey machine that wrapped up the National Hockey League title without extraordinary excitement, ruled 9-5 favorites today over Montreal Canadiens in the Stanley Cup final.

The betting fraternity didn't have to indulge in higher mathematics to settle on these odds. While the teams prepared for the opening game tonight of the best-of-seven series, a flashback of past performances was all they needed.

The Wings ran out the N.H.L. schedule with 100 points, a margin of 22 over the second-place Canadiens. In the 14 meetings between the clubs, the Wings took the decision nine times and lost only twice. Three games were tied.

HOT IN SEMI

The Wings capped this display of strength by unceremoniously mopping up Toronto Maple Leafs, 1951 Stanley Cup champions, in four straight games of their cup semifinal.

In the other semifinal, Canadiens needed the full seven games to overcome Boston Bruins.

Odds or no odds, you can't convince coach Dick Irvin that his Canadiens won't make the grade against the Red Wings. If they do it will be the first time that the cup—and the title of world champions—has come to Montreal since 1946.

Despite injuries at the outset of the series with Boston, Canadiens showed remarkable recuperative powers. They pulled out an overtime win when on the verge of elimination and then took the deciding seventh game, thanks largely to Maurice Richard's deciding goal.

The Montreal adherents point out, too, that Canadiens whipped the Wings in a semifinal last year before bowing to the Leafs. The Wings are much the same. But since then Canadiens have come up with a flock of rookies who broke out in goal rashes throughout the season.

STRONG DEPTH

Strong in every position, and with big Gordie Howe a continual scoring threat, the Wings nevertheless must watch such upstarts as Dick Moore, Paul Meger and Bernie (Boom Boom) Geoffrion.

A couple of farmhands from the American Hockey League—Eddie Mazur and Paul Masciadrelli—got into the final two games with the Bruins and both figured in the scoring. The pair undoubtedly will be trotted out again tonight by coach Irvin.

The Wings will be without Leo Reise, the big-blond defenseman and a top-ranking star in the N.H.L., who suffered a severe foot injury in practice.

Up front, the Red Wings are intact and what combination Canadiens will send against the big production line—Howe, Sid Abel and Ted Lindsay—remains to be seen.

Ed Viggers Scores Pin Grand Slam

Ed Viggers captured the all-events and singles championship at Gibson's Bowladrome annual fivepin bowling tournament over the past two week-ends.

He won the all-events competition with 664 in the team event, 775 in the doubles, 832 in the singles and a 198 handicap for a total of 2,479, and topped the singles honors with 832 plus a handicap of 66 for a total of 898.

Harry Holmes was runner-up in the all-events division with 2,381, while Don Corbett was third with 2,341. B. Naylor was runner-up in the singles competition with 893.

Winners of the doubles event were Miss Lillian Henderson and her father, Fred Henderson, with a total of 1,689. R. Waggoner and A. Copp were second with 1,601.

EXHIBITION RUGBY BILLED

Naval Reservists May Give Tide Hard Fight

What may turn out to be one of the finest exhibition contests in the Victoria Rugby Union this season has been arranged between the Royal Canadian Navy and the Crimson Tide at Macdonald Park Saturday at 2:30.

The Tars will have a side composed of mostly reservists, many who played for the Tide during the regular season.

At fullback, the Navy will have reliable Derek Hyde-Lay, who played for Crusaders during the season play and turned out for the Crimson Tide against U.B.C. recently.

STRONG THREE-LINE

The three-quarter line will feature Gerry Main of Varsity Thunderbirds at left wing, Don Nesbitt at left centre, Hillary Wetherston of Vindex at right centre and Dave McKenzie of Crusaders at right wing.

Naval reservist Walt Young of Victoria College will fill in at the stand-off position while Dick Ellis of Wanderers will play scrum half.

Forwards for the Navy will be Bob Shipley, Don Shaw, Hugh Barden, John Shipley and Ken Bridge from Crusaders; John Poole from J.B.A.A. and Jack Kyle and R. Baker from Vancouver.

SHUFFLED ROSTER

The Crimson Tide's line-up will be slightly off the beaten track, due to the fact that some of the former Tide players such as Dick Ellis, Don Shaw and Dave McKenzie will be in R.C.N. colors, but nevertheless, it will be the Tide.

At fullback will be Tommy Ward of Wanderers, while Jim Burns and Lorne Prevost of Wanderers and Gary Pynn and Dave Cook of J.B.A.A. will make up the three-quarter line. Scrum half will be Victoria College's Gary Webster.

Front-rank men will be Ed Bourke and Jim Barry of J.B.A.A. and Bob Bayne of Wanderers, while the Bays' Harry Turner and Wanderers' Colin Blyth will fill in at second rank.

Forwards will be Jim Mill and Rookie Wright of Wanderers and Bill Thorburn of J.B.A.A. Spares will be Gordy Pynn and Danny Hales.

Quakers Dump Rockets; Finals Here Saturday

Strain Pots Winner in Overtime

By The Canadian Press

Saskatoon Quakers and Victoria Cougars will grapple for the Pacific Coast Hockey League title.

The stage for this Coast-versus-Prairie duel was set Wednesday night when Quakers, playing their first year in the league, raced from behind for a 4-3 overtime win over Tacoma Rockets.

They untracked for three goals in the final 10 minutes and then won the game when Neil Strain banged in a goal during a furious scramble at 6:50 of the first overtime session.

This, along with previous 7-1 and 6-4 decisions on the Prairies, gave Quakers the best-of-five semi-final 3-0.

The Saskatoon team took the series in the minimum three games by refusing to acknowledge defeat.

EARLY LEAD

Mark Marquess scored for Rockets in the first period. Wayne Brown added another in the second and Warren Godfrey sent Rockets out in front 3-0 on his goal at 8:01 of the third period.

Then Quakers took over with a rally that won them the game. Defenseman Howie Milford got the first at 14:12 while Rockets were shorthanded, Brown sitting out two minutes for tripping.

Chuck McCullough tipped in Doug Bentley's shot at 17:20 to narrow the gap to one goal and Johnny Chad deadlocked matters at 18:50 when he scored from about 30 feet out on a shot that slipped past Tacoma goalie Doug Stevenson.

QUAKERS FAVORED

Quakers, who finished second in league play, will go into the final as favorites over the defending champion Cougars, who barely made the playoffs.

All-Star Team Named for United Game

Victoria and District Football Association All-Stars, who will play Victoria United at the Juvenile Day soccer program at Athletic Park Good Friday, have released their line-up for the contest.

Only one club has not been represented on the all-star team and that is Victoria West, who will not be participating as they meet Esquimalt in the Jackson Cup final Saturday.

Esquimalt, however, have three players on the squad.

Goalie for the all-stars will be Archie McMillan, with Dave Burt and Ed Williams as fullbacks. On the half-line, Ed Young will centre Tom Fallon and Red McMillan.

Centre-forward is Ken Griffin, while Tim Walker and Harry Caruthers are on the insides and Alec Stewart and Stan Wiseman on the wings. Reserves are Andy Anderson, Frank Grealey and Allan Jagger.

On top of that, they anticipate that their favorites will wind up the series with another win here in tomorrow night's fourth clash, the one which would bring them the Dominion title.

The westerners took the Monday opener 3-0-1, but Tillsonburg bounced back Tuesday to deadlock the series with a 70-56 verdict, Wednesday night, there was no question about it from the opening whistle. The Ontario squad led almost all the way and were by far the better on the 60 minutes of play.

PEGS FADE

Winnipeg held on grimly throughout the first half of Wednesday's effort, but faded badly. The Livvies led 21-16 by the end of the first quarter and held a 38-30 advantage at the half.

Opening up, the Ontario crew were in front 58-45 at the three-quarter mark before going on to their 79-60 final.

Roy Williams, lanky Winnipeg centreman, was top scorer of the night with 28 points. Carl Ridd was second in the visitors' point parade with 15.

Bob Phibbs was again high man for the home club, pushing

Six of Victoria's best boxers will travel to Alberni to participate in a nine-bout card at the Alberni Community Hall Friday night.

The boys going up-island are from the Esquimalt Boxing Club, the Victoria Police Boxing Club, the James Bay Boxing Club and St. Louis College Boxing Club.

Esquimalt will send Bert Wilkinson, Paul Calvey and Gordy McGaw, while the police club's contender is Terry Hallam. Going from James Bay will be Kerwin Johnson, while Rusty Groppe and Brian O'Hara will travel under St. Louis colors.

Wilkinson will take on Sammy May in a long-awaited main event, while Johnson trades blows with Bob Rumney in the semi-main.

In the 112-pound class, Terry Hallam will meet Don Tremblay and Harry Richards will face Dennis Lejeunesse in the 85-pound division. Brian O'Hara will mix it with Billy Hamilton amongst the 68-pounders, and Ted Stevens will take on Jerry Didier in the 70-pound class.

In a second 58-pound battle, Gordie McGaw will mix it with Danny Lee, while Rusty Groppe will swap leather with Ron Hill in a 77-pound bout.

THREE DIRECTORS NEW

Cox Named to Handle Tyees

The new deal promised Victoria fans during the recent "Save Baseball" drive took shape at Club Sirocco last night when incoming directors elected Arthur H. Cox, prominent insurance man, as president.

Cox had previously topped the poll when 117 shareholders in an annual session voted to elect seven out of 11 nominated for the new slate of directors. Successful nominees, with the total of votes (including proxies), were:

A. H. Cox	152
Stuart Keate	148
Emerson D. La Lecheur	133
John V. Johnson	130
Lawrie Wallace	119
George Straith	111
Ray Farfitt	97

Eliminated in this vote were Francis Norton, Arthur P. Dawe, David G. Nightingale, and Fred Hutchinson.

Scrutineers said later that Hutchinson, manager of the Victoria Cougars and former business manager of an American Association baseball team, placed fifth in votes from the floor but lost out on proxies.

Three of the directors are new to the board—Lawrie Wallace, secretary-treasurer of the Booster Club and sponsor of the Inter-High Vancouver Island basketball championships; "Lal" La Lecheur, well-known Kiwanian and oil company official, and Times Publisher Stuart Keate.

CHOOSE NEW DIRECTORS

Immediately following the general meeting, which was attended by more than 150 directors met and elected Cox, president; George Straith, vice-president, and Lawrie Wallace, secretary.

Johnny Johnson, retiring president, stepped down to the board and spoke warmly in recommendation of the new slate.

The meeting was an enthusiastic one. While Ald. James Neely ordered the vote, with Cam Smith, Col. Russell Ker and Reeve Archie Gibbs acting as scrutineers, volunteers from the floor led sing-songs, told stories and gave recitations.

Jim Tang, recently returned from the Salinas training camp, reported that the club had "more spring training hustle than any other I've seen at five previous camps."

At present, Tang said, the clubs' pressing need was for pitchers, catchers and a good long-ball hitter. Portland have promised battery help and it's possible that Bill White may return to supply the outfield punch.

FINANCIAL REPORT GIVEN

In a report on the club's finances, honorary auditor Reeve Archie Gibbs said that last year was $33,400. Attendance of only 70,000 fans was worst in the six-year history of the team.

Last year's expenses of $95,730 included $45,000 in players' salaries; $20,374 for travelling and spring training, and $5,241 for "bats and balls."

The $3,000 awarded Kewpie Barrett for unfulfilled portion of his contract last year will be contested by the club, it was reported.

In his retiring message, former president Johnny Johnson thanked "the loyal fans of Victoria who made this city the second best in attendance in the league," and predicted that fans will rally to the new Tyees if given a hustling club.

Newly-elected Tyee president Arthur Cox told the Times this morning:

"We'll do our best. From now on it's up to the fans to fill the ball park."

Cox said that he was "very optimistic" following last night's enthusiastic meeting.

First Game Completely Sold Out

If you haven't got a couple of ducats in the pocket of your jeans, read no further, it would only be painful.

The indecision is over and it is official now that Victoria Cougars will meet Saskatoon Quakers for the championship of the Pacific Coast Hockey League championship starting in Victoria Saturday night.

Following Saskatoon's 4-3 victory over Tacoma Rockets in the third and final game of their semifinal series Wednesday, P.C.H.L. president Al Leader gave the final decision on the series.

Quakers, as they finished higher than Cougars in the final standings, had the option of naming the site of the first game of the series. But as they finished the semifinal series at Tacoma, they waived their option and agreed to start the series at Victoria.

The second game of the best-of-seven set will be played Monday, and if the first two games are split, the third game will be here Wednesday. The fourth game would then go to Saskatoon a week from this Saturday with the fifth the following Monday.

FIRST TWO DECIDE

However, should one of the teams cop both of the first two games, the series would shift to Saskatoon for the third game next Thursday. The next two games would be Saturday and Monday, also on Saskatoon ice.

If a sixth game was necessary, it would come back to Victoria, Wednesday, April 22.

The jarring note for local fans is that both games, Saturday and Monday, are complete sellouts and were that two and a half hours after Cougar general manager Fred Hutchinson opened the doors.

Cougars are almost certain to be at full strength for Saturday's game. Club physician Dr. J. D. Wride reports that Ernie Roche's injured toe has recovered satisfactorily and "he can play as long as it does not give him too much pain."

Roche has been skating with the team in practices this week, the swelling of his foot having abated sufficiently to allow him to wear a skate.

Whatever It Was The Navy Won It

Sailors Lift Ice Title In Unbelievable Horror

Navy 14, Merchants 6
By DENNY BOYD

It wouldn't be much use trying to recount the tale of Navy's 14-6 victory over Victoria Merchants Wednesday night. Too much happened in the short span of 60 minutes to attempt to describe it as a normal hockey game.

As a hockey game it wasn't much but a horribly one-sided affair that saw the sailors skate the never-say-die Merchants right under the blue line to annex the Victoria Commercial Hockey League championship three games to one.

As a team, Navy wears the championship crown proudly and deservedly. They were the better club, they packed the most firepower and they had the most depth. They fully deserved the championship and they could probably give any intermediate team in B.C. a bad time.

But when the outcome of any game is so one-sided as was Wednesday's, the real drama of the game lies behind the scenes.

There was Ab Ellis, Merchants' goalkeeper. Ellis had the sort of night that usually comes from mixing dill pickles and whipped cream. In short, it was a nightmare for the starry puck-blocker.

Ellis was due for a bad game. The kind of hockey he has been playing throughout the series cannot be continued indefinitely; somewhere along the line a guy has to have the percentages catch up with him. And they surely did catch up with Ellis as he was missing shots that he would normally notch between his teeth while tying up his shoe laces.

Ellis could do little right Wednesday, but that performance detracts not at all from the tremendous job he did of carrying Merchants through the season.

A Happy Bunch of Tars

On the successful side there was Lieut. Cmdr. Burchall, Navy coach. "Burch," as he is commonly called, had a beaming smile and a handshake for every player on his club. He had been presented with the Cross Cup by league president Duke Kears, and back in the dressing room the cup had been filled with a popular thirst quencher. Burchall presented the cup to every player in celebration of the fact that he has the record of winning intermediate championships on both the west and east coasts.

The biggest spark in the Navy attack was bantam sized Johnny Bond, who could not land a regular berth on the club until almost the end of the season. Bond put on a great two-way performance, scored two goals and a brace of assists and harried the Merchants' defense with his persistent fore-checking.

Bond and Merchants' Jimmy Gailant, the other flyweight of the league, staged a crowd-pleasing Heyrube in the third period, both batters tossing their sticks and gloves aside to battle in the manner of a pair of fighting cocks.

When Time Stood Still

For a while, it looked as if it might be a hockey game. Navy held a slim 3-2 lead at the end of the first period but Merchants, sparked by Ken Gunter and a pair of youngsters named Rudy Plisch and Ab Taylor, were pressing and looked dangerous. But then came the most horrible period that ever befell any hockey club. Navy turned on an awesome barrage of raw power in the second period to collect eight goals as Merchants could not get untracked to check the sailors that milled around Ellis.

In addition, Merchants lost Gunter when he was in a painful collision with Doug Johnston's stick. Gunter fortunately escaped a broken jaw but on return from hospital, his mouth was badly cut and swollen.

Merchants never did stop Navy, but managed to slow them down slightly, holding them to three goals in the third period while rapping in a pair of their own.

The season is officially over but it will be many a month before fans can forget the power that Navy turned on in the fateful second period.

RAMBLERS DEFEATED

Eilers New Dominion Women's Cage Champs

VANCOUVER, April 10 (CP).—Scoring-machine Nora McDermott ran wild for 25 points Wednesday night as Vancouver Eilers defeated Hamilton Zion Ramblers 46-31 to take the Canadian senior women's basketball championship in three straight games.

Ramblers fought desperately to extend the best-of-five series after trailing 24-8 at the half. They lost the first two games 53-32 and 32-28.

The winners were presented with the Underwood Trophy following the game.

Eilers, who captured the Dominion crown in 1950, were outscored in only one quarter—the last. They had piled up an 18-point lead by three-quarter time.

The series was a heartbreaker for the Hamilton girls who proved they could win—by large scores—in their eastern finals.

After the game coach Wilf Johnson offered no excuses.

"We lost, that's all," he said.

"Eilers are a good team."

Hamilton players: E. Brennan, E. McAndrew, I. Ross, K. Kurelek, 2. Smethurst, C. Peal.

Vancouver players: A. Muner, 3. N. McDermott, 24. L. McDermott, 4. Piper, 5. Stoddart, 6. McDonald, C. Callaghan.

Elliott Leads Maroons to Junior Title

Fast skating Arnold Elliott, with three goals, led Maroons to an 8-3 triumph over Royals for the Victoria Minor Hockey Association junior division championship in a sudden-death final at Memorial Arena Wednesday night.

While Elliott came through with a hat-trick, John Makowski and Ken Cooper were next with two goals each. Curly Leachman scored the odd one.

Jim Elliott, Bill Sherwood and Al Lawrence tallied for the losers.

Great Golf Duo To Be Separated

Victoria is losing one of the most promising young golfers to grace local golf courses in some time.

John Merriman, who has become quite well-known throughout the local sporting world through his relationship with Bob Fleming, is leaving the city to take up a post with the Imperial Bank of Canada at Cranbrook as a teller-accountant.

Merriman, along with teammate Fleming, came into the limelight recently as having set a new record for the length of time which they held the city senior golf button. The pair held the lapel decorations from May, 1949, to July, 1950, for a total of 16 defenses.

Merriman was city junior champion in 1950, and is the present club and handicap champion at the Gorge Vale Golf Club.

LEAVES IN MAY
The young golfer is scheduled to leave for his new post May 8, but if he is still in the running for the Vancouver Island Match Play Open championship, then he will not leave until May 12.

He will be re-united with Fleming for a short time this summer, although they will be opposing each other. They both plan to enter the Canadian amateur championships at Vancouver Capilano course.

HOLD PRACTICE
A practice of last year's Eagles' baseball team will be held at Windsor Park on Friday morning at 10. All last year's players, and anyone else interested are requested to attend.

FILM REVIEW

TWO FOR THE SHOW

By PHIL LEE

AA (Oscar class). BB (Worthwhile). A (Don't miss). B (For rainy days). C (To put in time).

Personally I take a shady view of most of Hollywood's self-advertising. Every picture the film moguls make seems always better than the last one you saw. They're never billed as just "good" or "excellent" but as "stupendous—colossal—super-super," etc., etc., ad infinitum, ad nauseam. Until, finally, you don't even believe them when they're right.

But if the eastern newspaper reviewers and national mag writers can be trusted then we, in Victoria, are in for a standout week-end when four new shows make their bow to downtown theatre-goers. Each of them arrives with a reputation in its own field, with reviewers ranging from "good" to "outstanding."

"Singin' in the Rain" (Royal, starts Friday). If nothing else to recommend it this M-G-M musical has the inimitable Gene Kelly in the starring role. Fabulous academy award winner for his choreography in "American in Paris," the dancing master of "Anchors Aweigh," Kelly is guaranteed to guarantee any picture he's in. Only Astaire at his height could hope to match him in my opinion.

But in "Singin' in the Rain" Kelly is abetted by the irrepressible Donald O'Connor and Debbie Reynolds. The picture is also loaded with nostalgia to the brim; songs like "Singin' in the Rain" and "You Were Meant for Me." Gene Kelly hits of another era when talkies were pups (circa 1929-30), and they put over the first great color-talkie-musical, "Broadway Melody."

If the "trailer" views mean anything this should make a wonderful Easter-treat for the entire family.

"The Man in the White Suit" (Odeon, starts Monday). Alec Guinness! If there ever was a "brand" name in show business it is the name of Guinness, versatile British actor-comedian. If you saw him in "Kind Hearts and Coronets" or "Lavender Hill Mob" you know that the brand stands for "genius."

In "The Man in the White Suit" U.I. Alec is a research chemist who invents a cloth that never wears out. What this does to England's textile industry makes it a delightful bit of nonsense—but with a moral. Other stars include Joan Greenwood, Cecil Parker and Michael Gough.

"Aaron Slick From Punkin Crick" (Capitol, starts Friday). If you like the singing of Dinah Shore and Met star Robert Merrill, the type of comedy styled by Alan Young then this Paramount effort should be your special dish. There are 12 new tunes for this one, like "Marshmallow Moon," "Chores" and "Saturday Night in Punkin Crick." They Dinah Shore were written especially for the show by Academy Award winners Ray Evans and Jay Livingston. The story concerns the wooing of Dinah (a widow on a farm) by next-door-neighbor

Young. Between wooings they give the heavens to a couple of "city slickers."

"With a Song in My Heart" (Dominion, starts Friday). With Susan Hayward playing the part of singer Jane Froman this is the actual story of the singer's rise to fame, her tragedy (a seriously injured leg and 25 operations) following an air crash over Lisbon and her indomitable courage that carried her through. Although Hayward does the acting it is Jane Froman's voice that sings on 20th Century-Fox's sound tracks. This could easily be well-worth the seeing.

See you at the movies and may you like them. Meanwhile—Happy Easter.

ALD. CHRISTIE IN PLEA FOR NURSING HOME

Tells of Elderly Man's Death

Ald. Margaret Christie went to bat for her Victoria Nursing Home addition project at City Council meeting Wednesday.

In an eloquent plea she urged council to take action with the city's proposed $150,000 share because of the desperate need for accommodation. Total cost of the 100-bed addition will be $460,000.

"This has been buffeted from pillar to post for a year," she said. "We need that nursing home. We will comply with any regulations."

She said one day there was not a bed available in hospital or nursing home for a sick man. An aged Chinese, suffering a stroke, was taken by police ambulance to Royal Jubilee Hospital. He could not be admitted because there was no bed, she said.

"He died the next day." "I wish I could get you to understand the need," Ald. Christie pleaded.

The city must make the first move, before the senior governments contribute their share. City Solicitor Arthur Patton said he was waiting for an interview with Attorney-General Gordon Wismer, to obtain the government's definition of exactly "what the building will be."

ASSURANCES NEEDED

He said the city must know where it stands with regard to grants and the status of the $80,200 social assistance formula, should it enter the nursing home addition scheme.

Aldermen Percy Scurrah and Waldo Skillings feared what the ultimate cost might be to the city and the eventual liability.

They claimed the proposed addition would have hospital status, as the provincial and federal government each was pledged to put up one-third of the cost. As a hospital they doubted if the Nursing Home Committee could keep costs at the $30 a month per patient as at present.

Any hospital cost, Skillings felt, should be borne by the provincial government. Ald. Don Smith wanted additional information.

Ald. Christie, who indicated she had given the whole story many times to last year's council, promised she would bring in another full report to the next meeting on estimated costs per day per patient.

Officer-Cadets To Converge Here for Intensive Courses

Some 80 army officer-cadets from services colleges and universities throughout Canada shortly will be gathering here for 16-week courses.

Cadets from Royal Roads and the Royal Military College, Kingston, are expected to arrive at Work Point around or shortly after April 25. University officer candidates are due each Friday. Courses start May 19, conclude Sept. 6.

An army spokesman said that first and second-year cadets will undergo anti-aircraft and coast artillery training; the third-year cadets to do "in job" training—acting in various officers' roles.

Majority of classes will be held at Work Point, with practical training at Albert Head for ack-ack and Mary Hill for coast artillery.

The cadets also have a program of sports in conjunction with the military classes.

Reserve army cadets will be working alongside the university contingent.

A devotional service will be held in Oak Bay United Church Sunday school room on Friday at 11 a.m.

St. Louis College Alumni Association will have as its special guest at a social evening April 18, Dr. A. J. Garsche, 91, who started at the college in 1867.

BETWEEN TIMES

By MONTE ROBERTS

It is the habit,
Of Mr. Abbott,
To go and grab it.

There was no noticeable tendency on the part of the tax payers Wednesday to indulge in dancing in the streets. Even those who would benefit, in some small way, from the new budget, were full of reservations. Nearly everyone I talked with said: "Well, it's alright, but..."

Which makes me think it should be called the "Yah, but..." budget. (Joke).

I see by the morning paper that a new system of cribbage scoring is in vogue in Victoria.

As reported Wednesday, A. L. Robinson, playing with his son, J. L., held the jack of diamonds and three fives, and on the cut "a second jack turned up."

This, says the paper, gave Mr. Robinson a perfect 29 hand. All I can say, if Mr. Robinson pegged 29 on THAT holding, and his son did not protest, his son is indeed showing respect for his elders.

Tommy Walters reports a sign, firmly planted in Beacon Hill Park, which reads:

"Dogs will be prosecuted unless on leash."

I carried this information home, chuckling mightily at the picture of a dog being hauled before the magistrate, but the pups who live at our house could see nothing funny in it.

"If they are going to prosecute us dogs," said Dempsey, "They will have to set up a dog judge and an all-dog jury."

"Certainly," agreed the Dutchess. "We are entitled to be tried by a jury of our peers."

"You betcha," growled Punch, "that's the leash they can do."

The other day Dave Armstrong of CKDA, on his Roving Reporter program, talked with a young lady, recently arrived here from up-Island.

Dave: "And where do you work?"

Young lady: "In safety deposit boxes."

Herewith an accolade to Dave, who did NOT say, "Don't you find it stuffy?"

OLD SHIP TOWED TO YARROWS FOR MODERN FACE AND FIGURE

Black Ball Ferries' City of Sacramento, slated for rebuilding here for service in Canadian waters, was towed into Esquimalt harbor today.

Conversion of the 1903-built, iron hulled, 300-footer is part of Black Ball expansion plans. It is expected the contract will be awarded to Yarrows.

The old ship saw many years of service in San Francisco Bay, and was later acquired by Puget Sound Navigation Co. of Seattle.

TOPICS OF THE TIMES

W. N. Wallace was elected president of the Victoria Branch of the 48th Battalion (C.E.F.) Association—the 3rd Pioneer—at the annual meeting recently.

C. W. Panther was chosen as vice-president, A. B. Fraser as secretary-treasurer, P. M. Cole was the choice as sergeant-at-arms.

Executive committee members elected were Fred Brown, G. F. Sutch, E. S. Swift and Fred Talbot.

C. W. Panther was elected chairman of the veterans' affairs committee and W. L. Laddie as auditor.

A 19-year-old alleged "peeping tom" was caught by a Lanford Street family Wednesday night, after he looked in a bedroom window, they told police.

He was cautioned by police and sent on his way.

Theft of motorcycle parts from Les Blow Sales, 2647 Douglas, was reported to city police Wednesday night.

The forks and handlebar, valued at $40, were removed from a motorcycle in the rear of the building.

Slapstick style comedy was the choice of the recreational council of T. Eaton Co. when it presented a minstrel show, "Koon Kapers," at Langham Court Theatre, Wednesday night.

Twenty-six staff members entertained about 250 co-workers with everything from glee club singing to balls of dough fired across the footlights during a special "cooking lesson" number.

The glee club mustered 21 voices, and supplying comedy relief as "endmen" were S. Muirhead, W. Fletcher, A. Seed and W. Beatty.

The show was written and directed by Ron Gleaves, and music was under direction of T. Austin.

Astronomers Meet Here April 25-28

The forthcoming convention of the American Astronomical League to be held in Victoria from June 25 to 28, was discussed at a meeting of the Victoria Centre, Royal Astronomical Society of Canada, Wednesday.

The convention will be attended by leading astronomers and mathematicians from all parts of Canada and the United States. Headquarters of the convention will be at the Dominion Astrophysical Observatory, Saanich.

Members of the Victoria Centre as well as the public are invited to attend the lectures to be given at Victoria College. The lectures will be of a technical nature and only of interest to those engaged in various fields of astronomy.

Last meeting featured three speakers, A. Stocks, John L. D. Jervis and S. H. Draper, who spoke on the various aspects of stars.

S. H. Draper noted that the moon is 238,857 miles from the earth while the nearest star is 25,000,000,000 miles from the earth.

The largest star ever measured is 400,000 miles in diameter, while the second largest is 200,000 miles, John Jervis pointed out.

Victoria's Queen Invited to 'Miss Canada' Contest

Inez McLeod, 19-year-old Victoria dental assistant who was acclaimed "Miss P.N.E." in Vancouver last September, has been invited to compete for the title of "Miss Canada" at Brant Inn, near Hamilton, Ont., next August 11-13.

The invitation came in a letter from S. Radcliffe Weaver, director of the "Miss Canada Pageant," and said that the Victoria girl had been nominated to enter the summer contest, which leads to the "Miss America" contest in Atlantic City, as "Miss B.C." or "Miss Pacific."

Only 24 Canadian girls are invited to the Hamilton pageant. Each participant receives a $100 scholarship, with "Miss Canada," the winner, winning $1,000 and an all-expenses paid trip to Atlantic City.

Neither contest is a "bathing suit" affair. Girls are selected for personality and talent as well as good looks.

Miss McLeod said today she wasn't sure whether she could make the trip to Hamilton in August but considered nomination "a great honor."

"It would be thrilling to have a try," she told The Times, "but I'm afraid they want someone really talented."

"Each contestant has to do a three-minute number—sing, dance, play a musical instrument, do a dramatic sketch or make a speech."

Miss McLeod does not dance professionally or play an instrument. She is a member of the Victoria Girls' Drill Team but concedes "it's a little hard to do a drill routine all by yourself."

Expenses are paid after arrival in Hamilton. It's estimated that $1,000 would be needed for travel and outfitting to have "Miss B.C." take part.

Miss McLeod, who works for Dr. T. H. Johns, is a "brownette," five feet five inches tall. She weighs 115 pounds.

It's understood that the Junior Chamber of Commerce, which backed Miss McLeod when she won the P.N.E. title, will discuss the new invitation at an early meeting. Support of other provincial groups will probably be solicited.

LIBERAL CHOICE

City's Three Members Get Nominations

Education Minister W. T. Straith, Madame Speaker Nancy Hodges and Capt. D. J. Proudfoot will be Liberal candidates for the three Victoria seats in the Legislature in the coming provincial election. Theirs were the only nominations.

Nominations close Wednesday night, and the Victoria Liberal Association's nominating meeting will be held on Thursday at Liberal headquarters, Government Street. The announcement was made at a meeting of Ward Four Liberal Association.

The election will likely see a lively contest between Mrs. Hodges and Mrs. Margaret Harvey, Progressive Conservative candidate. Both are strong candidates and their names probably will appear on the same ballot.

Capt. Proudfoot is expected to be pitted against Albert B. McPhillips, P.C. candidate, and the C.C.F.'s Colin Cameron.

As it now stands, Mrs. Straith will oppose P.C. candidate Walter Miles.

Meanwhile Liberals are preparing for their pre-election convention in Vancouver April 23 and 24, and 25, if necessary.

More than 1,000 delegates will attend to hammer out a party platform.

Long Unconscious, Girl Collision Victim Rallying

Janet Wright, 14-year-old Victoria High School student gravely injured in a March 21 traffic accident, is making a good recovery at Royal Jubilee Hospital.

"There are signs that she will come through the ordeal and be as fit as ever," said her happy mother, Mrs. Annie Wright, 734 Wilson.

The girl was on her way to catch a bus for school around 8 on the morning of March 21 when she was struck by a motor cycle driven by Donald J. Brown, 437 Constance, at Esquimalt Road and Rothwell.

She suffered a fractured skull and a broken leg, and was unconscious for many days.

Baby Safe, Mother Victim In Crash

A baby escaped injury but its mother was badly shaken up about noon today following a two-car collision at May and Moss Streets.

About $1,000 damage was done to the cars. Suffering shock and minor injuries, Mrs. Howard Jones, 1152 Dallas, was taken to Jubilee Hospital in the city police ambulance.

Her 2½-year-old baby son, sitting in the front seat with his mother, escaped injury. The side of the car where Mrs. Jones was sitting was badly damaged.

The drivers, who escaped injury, were Robert Duncan, 1152 Dallas, father of the injured woman, and Albert Cox, 1270 Faithful.

TRUMPETER NOMINATED

Big Swan Held Best Bird For Provincial Emblem

The trumpeter swan, the largest of North American wildfowl, and regarded as the most aristocratic member of the bird population, is suggested by scores of people as the most suitable bird to serve as an emblem for British Columbia.

The swan is becoming a heavy favorite in the bird emblem contest sponsored by the Victoria Natural History Society, with the co-operation of The Victoria Daily Times. At least 40 persons have written suggesting the swan because the species is now only to be found as the wild state in British Columbia.

Mrs. E. J. T. Woodward, wildlife artist who has illustrated scores of children's stories, urges the choice of a spectacular bird which will lend itself to commercial reproductions, like B.C.'s unofficial flower, "the flowering dogwood."

Mrs. Woodward felt that a small, colorful bird would be of little value.

One of Victoria's best-known bird authorities, A. R. Davidson, suggests the chickadee as a possible candidate. The bird is smaller than most sparrows, is extremely active, often hanging upside-down in its busy search for insects.

This bird, Mr. Davidson points out, is common in nearly all gardens in British Columbia and is a useful ally in the war against insects.

Word from the War Department at Ottawa has assured me that although the shrapnel entered the small of his back, the wound is not of a serious nature," said Mrs. Hilda Morgan, who works at the Economy Steam Laundry. His father, Gerald Morgan, is a carpenter.

Young Morgan joined the Patricia's at the age of 18 and went over with the 25th Canadian Special Brigade last July for service on the Korean front.

Before leaving for the battlefield, Mr. Morgan went through two years of paratroop training with the Patricia's.

Victoria Soldier's Wound Not Grave, Mother Informed

A sniper-scout in the P.P.C.L.I. in Korea, Pte. Douglas Gerald Morgan, 21, of 1114 Lockley, Esquimalt recently suffered shrapnel wounds, according to word reaching his mother.

Word from the War Department at Ottawa has assured me that although the shrapnel entered the small of his back, the wound is not of a serious nature," said Mrs. Hilda Morgan, who works at the Economy Steam Laundry. His father, Gerald Morgan, is a carpenter.

Young Morgan joined the Patricia's at the age of 18 and went over with the 25th Canadian Special Brigade last July for service on the Korean front.

STANDARD OIL HEAD TO SPEAK

Ralph D. Baker, president of Standard Oil Company of British Columbia, will be guest speaker at the annual meeting of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce in the Empress Hotel Friday, April 18, at noon.

Active in the business and industrial life of B.C., Mr. Baker was president last year of the Vancouver Board of Trade.

Annual reports of the chamber will be presented at the meeting and Mayor Claude Harrison will officially install the new officers.

Car Price Cut No Inducement To Sales Rush

Reductions in new car prices ranging from $100 to $300, due to the lowering of excise taxes, have not resulted in any great speed of sales in Victoria.

Dealers report slightly heightened interest on the part of those who have been holding back in hopes that the budget would mean lower prices, but actual sales are "nothing unusual."

Most dealers will suffer some loss on both new and used cars in stock. One expects to drop $15,000.

Purchasers offering used cars in trade-ins can expect allowances to be reduced in line with the reduced prices.

Despite immediate losses, dealers are unanimous in the belief that the lower prices will have a healthy effect on the automobile market. But they also agree that only relaxation of credit restrictions will mean a real speed-up in sales.

City police court will be closed both Good Friday and Easter Monday.

Court clerk William Ostler said that court will open at the usual time of 10 a.m. Saturday morning.

Worship Holds High Place in Holiday Plans

With a three to four-day holiday approaching for a good many Victorians, plans are now being made for all sorts of observances.

Travel is high on the list of preferences, and a good many anglers are shining spoons and tying flies ready for a week-end of fishing.

The weather, however, will play an important part in final decisions. This evening will be cloudy, and Good Friday will be cloudy with sunny intervals, weatherman William Mackie reported. It will be mild, and winds will be light.

Although Mr. Mackie's forecast does not extend past Friday night, he said showers were a definite possibility Saturday and Sunday.

Temperatures will remain warm, he said, but southwest winds might become brisk.

Churches Will Be Thronged

Worship will play a large part in all plans for Good Friday and Easter Sunday, and for many the week-end holiday will be planned around the church services arranged.

Those holding services Good Friday at 11 a.m. are St. Andrew's Presbyterian, First Baptist, St. John's and St. Mary's Anglican, Church of Our Lord, Oak Bay United and many others.

Christ Church Cathedral will hold its children's service at 9.30, Matins at 10, and Evensong at 7.30 p.m.

The Cathedral and Church of St. George the Martyr, Cadboro Bay, will also hold the Three Hour Service, commemorating Christ's suffering on the Cross.

Among the many churches holding evening services Good Friday will be Central Baptist and St. Mary's.

The Public Way of the Cross will be observed by Roman Catholics Good Friday at noon.

Easter Sunday will be a general day of worship to be observed by all churches. Special efforts have been made by all clergymen and congregations to reproduce all the beauty of the traditional devotions.

School children begin their 10-day Easter holiday Good Friday, and will play a large part in the week-end festivities.

Some of the lively fishing spots will be Cowichan River, Shawnigan Lake, Douglas's Lake, all the small lakes in the near vicinity here, and Colquitz Creek.

Service stations did a rushing business today selling gasoline for week-end drives Up-Island and to the Sooke-Jordan River district.

Variety in Sports Program

Sports fans will have a large choice of events to witness and enjoy, starting with the annual hot cross bun golf tournament Good Friday at 9 at Uplands.

The women's four-ball, best-ball foursome play will begin at George Vale at 10, and at 10.30 the annual road race will start from the Britannia Legion Hall, Blanshard Street.

At 1 p.m. the Juvenile Day soccer program will start at Athletic Park, and at 8.30 p.m. P.N.E. Indians and Navy will joust for the Pacific Coast Commercial League championship at Memorial Arena.

Saturday will be a big sports day. Victoria West and Esquimalt soccer teams kick off at Athletic Park at 2.30 p.m., and an exhibition rugby game between Navy and Crimston Tide will start at Macdonald Park at 2.30.

Biggest event will be the opening game of the Pacific Coast Hockey League finals for the Directors' Cup between Victoria Cougars and Saskatoon Quakers, to start in Memorial Arena at 8.30.

Legislative Building and city hall staffs will enjoy a four-day holiday. Industrial workers will have three days, and armed services will have Friday and Monday free.

Stores will be open Saturday and Monday.

There will be no letter carrier delivery on Friday, and there will be regular service Monday except for a morning mail delivery only in the business district.

On Good Friday the Post Office will give wicket service from 9 to 11 a.m., and the lobby will be open until 6 p.m. On Monday wicket service will be provided from 8 a.m. to noon.

Twice-Charged Driver on Bail

Bail of $75 was set in police court today for William L. Todd, 315 Beckley, when he appeared on charges of dangerous driving and failure to carry a current driver's license.

He pleaded not guilty and was remanded to April 15.

Violation of a restricted driver's license resulted in a $35 fine for Joseph Zawitkowski, 1042 Hillside, after he pleaded guilty.

Fined $35 on a careless driving charge was naval rating Gordon H. Hudson, Belmont Park, Colwood.

David R. Andrist, 791 Pandora, pleaded guilty to a charge of failing to carry a driver's license and was fined $25.

Jesus Still Holds Out Hope to the Sinner

THE THREE ON THE CROSSES
DOST THOU NOT FEAR GOD SEEING THOU ART IN THE SAME CONDEMNATION? AND WE INDEED JUSTLY, FOR WE RECEIVE THE REWARD OF OUR DEEDS BUT THIS MAN HATH DONE NOTHING AMISS, LORD REVEAL US WHEN THOU COMEST INTO THY KINGDOM.
VERILY I SAY UNTO THEE, THOU SHALT BE WITH ME IN PARADISE.
LUKE 23:40-43

Lord, remember me when Thou comest into Thy kingdom. Luke 23:42.

This thief was crucified with Jesus. Little is known of his life. He comes into the limelight on Calvary, and his story is known to the world over.

As this evildoer hangs on that beam of torture and pain, he admits that he is getting what is coming to him. He does not claim unfair treatment nor unjust penalties. He deserves all that he endures.

On that cross he finds himself and then Jesus. He does not see in this man on the midmost tree a fellow criminal, but God and his Saviour, This Jesus of Nazareth is in his opinion King and has a Kingdom, and he prays that he be granted a place in that Kingdom.

Jesus sees the earnestness of this man's heart. The man throws himself completely upon the mercy of the crucified Saviour. And Jesus, who came to seek and to save that which is lost, helps him in his distress. To the thief is given the most glorious promise that can be given to any human being: "Today shalt thou be with Me in Paradise." Jesus does not take him from the cross. Human eyes see the malefactor die as a criminal, but his eternal destiny is cast with Jesus in glory, where he is to find fullness of joy forever.

This same promise is given us today as we come to the Cross and plead with Jesus to be merciful to us. He stretches forth His pierced hands and bids us to come and live with Him throughout all eternity.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Men Are Human, Too, And Now Dress Like It

Life is always full of surprises! I never thought I would give men's fashion trends in this column. However, since my Tubby Hubby reducing diet is so recently over I feel certain that there are many men who are now taking more interest in their appearance. A bay window is not conducive to special interest in clothes. The man who has one is likely to want something roomy to cover up the bulge.

The Custom Tailor's Guild of America reports that there is a definite change in trend in masculine clothing. It seems that at last someone is taking an interest in brightening up the barely varying masculine garb, even the men themselves.

We have seen some of these changes in recent years during which usually conservative men have been wearing louder ties, colored slacks and tuxedos, loafers and bright pyjamas. Today men are turning toward a dressier look which is achieved by narrower lapels and trousers and shoulders. I do not think women will like the narrower shoulders. Midnight blue, navy blue and dark Oxford grey are the most popular colors and the single-breasted suit with accompanying vest is now in great demand.

This had almost disappeared.

Why is this? Well, there are several guesses. Perhaps the little woman has decided that she wants to see her man with more variety in his dress. Surveys show that more women are going with their husbands when they buy clothes. Maybe the upswing in interest in reducing diets which men now exhibit has played its part. Men are realizing more and more that over-weight is a health hazard.

Once they get a new figure they want to dress it up just like a woman does.

The foreign influence exerted by frequent public appearances of United Nations members and distinguished visitors from other countries is given credit by some.

Whatever the reason the little lady had better take advantage of this masculine mood before men decide to return to their undertaker clothes.

I hope very much that either he or she will write and tell me about the reducing results obtained from the "Tubby Hubby Diet."

If you would like a short routine of exercise especially planned for men, send for leaflet No. 20, "Short Routine for Men." Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

Show Wartime Work Of British Women

LONDON (CP).—A tapestry depicting British women at wartime tasks made its public debut at the Victoria and Albert Museum and may yet hang from the walls of Britain's House of Commons.

Parliament is considered one of the most suitable vantage points for a historic chronicle designed to show women's first big contribution to war work. "We want the tapestry to hang where overseas visitors can see it with ease," said a member of women's institute headquarters. "But the House of Commons is only possible if we give the tapestry to the nation."

No such decision has been made. The tapestry is to go on tour of women's institutes throughout Britain before its future is finally determined.

The 15x3-foot tapestry, its 2,000,000 stitches worked in 35 pounds of moth-proof wool, has a quotation from John Buchan, one-time governor-general of Canada: "It was a war won not by the genius of the few but by the faithfulness of the many."

Between Ourselves

By ELIZABETH FORBES

Many words have been written during the past week about the new service centre for blind citizens of Victoria that was officially opened on Arena Way recently.

There have been stories describing the exterior, the bright modern auditorium, the spacious work rooms, the circular show-room and the pleasant office space.

Officials of the Canadian National Institute for the Blind came from eastern Canada and from Vancouver for the opening ceremony.

Many speeches were made. Speeches that showed pride in the new building and sincere pleasure in the fact that Victoria's blind would now have a centre in which to meet, work and enjoy social gatherings.

Everyone there was delighted that the centre, dreamed of for so many years, was finally a reality.

You could see it in their faces, hear it in their voices as they chatted excitedly, feel it in the general atmosphere as those invited to the opening crowded every corner of the spacious auditorium.

And no one was more pleased nor proud than a tall, dark-haired young man, who stood quietly on the raised platform and accepted the key to the building from a representative of the construction company.

Non-his attentive wife who sat quietly in the audience.

In accepting the key, John di Castri said only two words: "Thank you." But in that "thank you" the listener could vision determination, struggle, hard work, and the thrill of accomplishment.

For John di Castri, a Victoria boy, was the architect of the new service centre.

And because he is a Victoria boy he had been told, over and over again, by friends and well-wishers that to succeed in his profession, he would have to leave his home town.

He went away to study. But always his eyes turned back to the city he knew so well.

He wanted to live in Victoria. To work here. And so did his wife, Paddy, born in British Columbia, and a Victoria girl since she was six years old. That's why he came back to the city to prove, if he could, that his friends and his well-wishers were wrong.

The service centre for blind citizens was his first big piece of work.

So you can understand the personal pride he felt, and the hopes he and his wife now have for the future.

Good luck, John and Paddy!

It's an Idea! Better Try It Out!

Horse chestnuts! The big spruce trees with sticky buds you see everywhere in the city. We've got one right outside our office window. And we've been watching those buds for weeks.

Set us wondering what they might do if they were forced a bit like the plum blossoms and forsythia earlier in the year. So we persuaded Reg Stoffer, head maintenance man here, to climb up on the roof and clip a few small branches for us.

We took them home, put them in our basements and waited results.

Today—they are a picture. Delicate green leaves and tight cluster of flower buds that look not unlike orchids.

You should try it some time soon!

WOMAN EDITS TRADE REPORTS

OTTAWA, April 10 (CP).—Canada has 91 trade commissioners—all men—stationed around the world, but it's a woman who sorts out and pieces together the mass of information they send back home.

The woman is Miss O. Mary Hill, 41-year-old Nova Scotia-born journalist and editor of the trade department's weekly magazine, Trade and Commerce. Her assistant is also a woman—Miss Margo Martin of Ottawa.

Editing a magazine is nothing to Miss Hill, popularly known as "O. Mary" among her friends. She took over the trade magazine last March after 11 years of editing Canadian Business, the monthly publication of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce.

DR. JORDAN SAYS:

Scalp Ringworm Needs Persistent Treatment

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.

Mrs. J. W. says that her nine-year-old son has ringworm of the scalp and wishes to know something about it. This condition, also known as tinea capitis, is a fungus infection, particularly annoying to children, and often running through a large number of children in a single school very rapidly.

As a rule, the condition is first noticed by the appearance of scattered half-bald patches on the back or sides of the head. These patches are scaly and the infected hair has a dull luster and often breaks off short. The root of the hair and that part of the scalp is close to the scalp is generally involved. Special equipment is necessary to make a diagnosis. A light, which consists of ultra-violet rays filtered through a special type of glass is used and examination must be carried out in a darkened room.

The infected hair usually gives a bright glow under this special light. There are also some other tests, such as looking at the hairs or scrapings from the scalp under the microscope.

Treatment is not easy but usually is successful in time. Unfortunately, the ointments containing chemicals which work on other kinds of fungus infections of the skin may not be successful for this. Thus, treatment may seem discouraging for a while.

The most important thing to do about ringworm of the scalp is to recognize its infectious nature and to stop it from spreading. The backs of seats in movie theatres seem to be responsible for many cases.

LOCATE CHILDREN'S CASES

When ringworm of the scalp is really epidemic in a community an attempt should be made to find all of the cases by making a survey of the school children, and examining the pre-school children in families in which an older brother or sister is found infected. Children in institutions are even more likely to be exposed than children in homes and therefore are especially in need of examination.

Barbers can be helpful if they watch for any such conditions of the scalp. Also they should refrain from cutting the hair of a child known to have, or suspected of having, this ringworm infection.

Skin specialists are seriously concerned about this problem. Parents can help enormously by being on the lookout for any disease of the scalp, and reporting it immediately to the physician.

City's Telegrams Still Penetrate U.S. Strike Area

Canadian Pacific and Canadian National Telegraphs are still giving service to United States points despite the six-day-old strike of Commercial Telegraphers (A.F.L.), Victoria company officials said today.

They make no guarantees, and accept telegrams as "subject to delay," but have had no major difficulties to date.

Some 50 or 60 offices throughout the United States are equipped to handle telegrams, of officials said. When one is accepted here, it is sent to the operating office nearest its destination, and is telephoned on.

A complication is the telephone strike in five eastern states, but so far it has caused no inconvenience to customers here.

Pickles Explains Statement's Delay

Central Saanich financial statement for 1951 was held up because necessary information regarding contingent liabilities had not been received from Saanich municipality, Reeve Sydney Pickles told the municipal council.

Ratepayers asked the Department of Municipal Affairs why the statement was not forthcoming, and the department in turn asked for an explanation, the reeve said.

B. C. Bracewell, deputy minister of municipal affairs, accepted the reason given. Reeve Pickles added, "The information has still to be received."

The council refused to open a single tender received for purchase of the municipality's dump truck. It was tabled, and further tenders will be sought.

Anti-Combines Laws Will Be Strengthened

OTTAWA, April 10 (CP)—The government is preparing a Sunday punch for those who break anti-combines laws.

Justice Minister Stuart S. Garson tabled the MacQuarrie committee report in the Commons Wednesday and said legislation based on recommendations will be introduced after parliament reconvenes, April 21.

The 60,000-word document, product of 20 months of study, recommends:

A division in the powers of Combines Commissioner T. D. MacDonald among four persons—himself and a three-man board which will have the final say whether reports on alleged breaches of the law should be passed along to the justice minister for action.

A crack-down against any monopolies, trusts, mergers and combines—those which persist in breaking the law—through application of a court-injunction. This process has never been tried and the committee suggested federal legal experts ascertain whether the government has a right to use it.

Until this controversial step involving constitutional rights and powers is settled, the government should give the courts the right to call for periodic reports from suspected parties to ascertain if they are breaking the law.

Almost complete rejection of suggestions made by trade organizations which the committee considered might reduce combines investigation powers.

Lifting of the ceiling on maximum fines which the courts can impose and eliminating the stipulation which says no charges can be launched against any party two years or more after the offense is alleged to have been committed.

More research into monopolies to obtain up-to-date information and closer liaison between the combines ranch and other government departments on fiscal and trade policy to make sure no policy is created which will help create illegal combines.

NEW YORK, April 10 (BUP)—A thief broke into the Greenwich Village apartment of song writer Holy Houston early Wednesday and escaped with 200 photograph records, all of big sale.

Messiah Well Handled Here

By AUDREY ST. D. JOHNSON

The deeply familiar music of Handel's "Messiah," which fits so well the mood and thought of both Christmas and Easter seasons, was given a full performance Wednesday, by the augmented choir of the Metropolitan United Church.

Due, I believe, to the fact that it was being sung in a church, it had a quality of intimacy often lacking in a larger, more theatrical style production.

Edgar Holloway, under whose direction the performance was given, served with equal skill in two roles—as conductor, drawing some fine effects from the choral body, and as organist accompanying the solo artists.

This dual responsibility was made necessary through the illness of Frederick Chubb, who was to have presided at the organ throughout. Mr. Chubb left a sick bed to accompany the choruses and give a sympathetically lovely rendering of the Pastoral Symphony.

IN FINE VOICE

Four of the great arias in this work are allotted to the bass soloist and Harry Johns handled the assignment with an ease born of close association with oratorio, and especially the "Messiah." The musical quality and the fine timbre of his voice was outstanding in "The People That Walked in Darkness."

Soprano solos were taken by Grace Adams. The beautiful aria, "Come Unto Him," was one of the rather special moments in which the full warm tones of Miss Adams' voice were most effective.

Contralto Louise Leask brought to the aria, "He Was Despised," a deep and genuine poignancy. Tenor solos were competently handled by Frank Spooner.

In Victoria we are developing a body of choral singers who are available and on the job whenever a major choral work is programmed. The good effect of this could be appreciated last night, as the augmented choir responsive to the conductor's demands, sang with conviction and ease the several fine choruses. Notable were "For Unto Us a Child Is Born," "All We Like Sheep" and the "Hallelujah" and "Amen" finales.

Canada's Trade Deficit Is Up $200,000,000

OTTAWA, April 10 (CP)—Canada's balance of payments in 1951 showed the second deficit in more than a decade—a record $524,000,000, the Bureau of Statistics reported Wednesday.

An increase of almost $200,000,000 from $329,000,000 in 1950, it compared with surpluses of $187,000,000 in 1949 and $452,000,000 in 1948.

The balance of payments measures earnings in foreign trade, tourist business, shipping and dividends against Canadian expenditures in foreign lands.

Despite the deficit, foreign investments boosted Canada's official reserves of dollars and gold slightly to $1,786,000,000 on December 31, 1951, from $1,741,500,000 in the previous year.

The flow of foreign capital into Canada pushed the total at the end of the year to a peak $9,124,000,000—an increase of $700,000,000 over 1950.

A Salute to the Cougars

—by Maureese Humbere.

"East is East, & West is West,
And ne'er the twain shall meet."
Too bad this author couldn't have seen,
Roger Leger and his hockey team.
This gallant band from our eastern shore,
Who've welded Canada as never before,
Gathering its cons, as west it came,
To teach us how—"To Play the Game."
To teach us too, on ice or bench,
We are NOT divided, English & French;
Nor torn apart by different creeds,
The proof, not words, but daring deeds;
Words,—we've HAD, thru many missions,
By top brass and politicians;
Yes, words and words, they've never ceased,
Yet little we've known, the far-off east,
But we know it NOW, and the kind they breed,
Guys who'll fight, get maimed & bleed;
Stalwart sons, from the prairie picked,
Who never knew when they were licked;
Who do the impossible, wind up with wins,
Sliding in there by the skin of their shins.
Incredible we say (our climate is soft),
As high their banner is waved a-loft;
Flying ambassadors, they've done the most,
To stretch this flag from coast-to-coast;
To weave us together, a giant splice,
So East & West . . . NO LONGER THIN ICE.

CITY MEETS PAY DIFFERENCES FOR MEN IN SERVICE TRAINING

City of Victoria Wednesday adopted the same policy as the provincial government toward employees active in reserve units of the armed forces.

Leave of absence will be granted without pay for training periods. Where service pay is lower than civilian, the city will make up the difference. Holidays will not be affected.

Council also approved request of the Red Cross for permission to bring the mobile blood donor clinic to City Hall.

Patent Infringement Suit Wins Britisher $9,000,000

NEW YORK, April 10 (AP)—A $341,600,000 patent-infringement suit brought by Harry Ferguson, 65, British inventor, against the Ford Motor Co. and others was settled Wednesday for $9,250,000.

The suit had been on trial before Federal Judge Gregory F. Noonan for more than a year. It was started about four years ago.

A consent judgment signed today involved only a part of the patent-infringement claims made by Mr. Ferguson. It was announced that the settlement payment was made by Dearborn Motors Corp., national marketing organization for the Ford tractor.

Other corporate defendants named in the suit were Sherman Tractor and Equipment Co. of Mt. Vernon, N.Y., and the Ohio Tractor and Implement Co. of Columbus, Ohio.

The announcement said Ford will make certain changes in the means of operation and control of a pump used on present Ford tractors and that the changes will be incorporated in the 1953 model.

Red Converts' Surrender Reported Urged on U.S.

Washington Dispatch Says Canada Backing Prisoner Exchange on Communists' Terms

NEW YORK, April 10 (CP)—The World-Telegram and Sun says in a Washington Dispatch today that "England, France and Canada are pressuring the United States to agree in the Korean truce talks to early return of all war prisoners—even those who didn't want to go back."

The dispatch, by Jim G. Lucas, staff writer for Scripps-Howard newspapers, says that so far the U.S. state department has resisted the pressure. The state department's argument is said to be that "letting the Reds get their hands on prisoners who have renounced Communism would cost us the support of all anti-Communist Asians."

"The defense department, on the other hand, seems willing to give in if a face-saving method can be found."

(Details of exchange of prisoners remains one of the issues in dispute between armistice negotiators in Korea.)

The dispatch says the three governments contend that refusal to send back all war prisoners in Korea would violate the Geneva convention. It also says they contend that in event of war with Russia, the Russians might take thousands of civilian and military prisoners and "might apply the same rule we are attempting to apply in Korea."

The newspaper says in an accompanying editorial that the report, "if true, is a shocking indictment of those countries and their leaders. It falls far short of what the world has a right to expect of supposedly Christian governments. We're sure it's not the attitude of the Englishmen, French or Canadians we know."

Channel Traffic On New Highway

Parson's Bridge-Langford to Get Mostly New Road; By-Pass Congestion Points

Two important points in connection with Victoria's two new major highway outlets were clarified by the public works department today.

1. At Douglas and Regina Streets—where the new Patricia Bay Highway will meet the new Island Highway—a special construction will be made to channelize traffic and remove congestion. Douglas Street from there to the city boundary will be widened to 50 feet to make a full four-lane highway.

2. The "second phase" of the new Island Highway outlet—Parson's Bridge to Langford—will be about 50% over a completely new route, by-passing the present congestion points.

It has already been announced work will begin this year on the "first phase" of the Island Highway outlet—from Douglas and Regina, paralleling the C.N.R. right-of-way to the existing highway near Parson's Bridge.

This will include elimination of the dangerous curve just south of the Six-Mile Bridge.

DETAILS SECRET
To prevent land speculation, works officials said they cannot yet give final details of the rest of the route, beyond the assurance that 50 per cent of it will be entirely new road.

At other points, the existing highway will be widened up to Trans-Canada standards.

This, officials said, will avoid for the most part the narrow and congested points of the existing road.

It is understood it will also involve construction of an entirely new bridge over Millstream, carrying the highway behind the Six-Mile House instead of in front of it as at present.

It is expected this section will remain the present highway near the "Chicken Coop" Restaurant, north of Langford Lake—thus by-passing the narrow cut of road beside the lake.

The second phase is slated for construction in 1953.

In reference to the intersection of Douglas and Regina, officials said it will be "completely adequate" to handle traffic.

Traffic will be "channelized" through the intersection, and no congestion is anticipated.

The official said Douglas Street, from the city limits to the intersection, will be widened to more than 50 feet to accommodate four lanes of traffic.

The city section of Douglas Street from Fountain Circle is 68 feet in width and the actual city-owned width is 100 feet.

The provincial works department now is in the process of buying properties along Douglas Street, between Regina and the city limits, so there also will be 100 feet available in that section.

Details of the intersection will be announced at a later date.

A Victoria Chamber of Commerce delegation met Deputy Minister Evan Jones and Chief Engineer Neil McCallum Wednesday afternoon seeking details of the new route and said afterwards they were satisfied with the explanation.

Delegation consisted of T. C. Denny, J. Genge, G. H. Wheaton, G. Swind, S. Swetnam, W. Heaney, R. Hayward Sr., J. M. Wood and R. Crombie, with Cyril Jones, Victoria city engineer.

30-YEAR CAREER

62-Year-Old Claims Banks Lose Million

PHOENIX, Ariz., April 10 (AP)—A dapper 62-year-old man who claims to have swindled more than $1,000,000 from banks in a 30-year career as a confidence man, was arrested here yesterday.

Police identified him as Gabriel F. Rosenthal of New York City. No charges have been filed.

Rosenthal, who talked freely of his purported escapades, was picked up while preparing to take two local banks for $30,000, detective Earl Moore said.

Moore stated that Rosenthal had deposited two $15,000 cheques Tuesday, one in each of the banks, and that later investigation had shown they were drawn on banks where he had no accounts and established credit at a local hotel as part of the usual front he built up before a killing.

To add to the atmosphere, he was lavished with $1 tips at the hotel, lived in a $30-a-day suite, posed as the nephew of the late Julius Rosenberg, former chairman of the board of Sears Roebuck & Co., and spent most of yesterday looking over a $75,000 home in the exclusive Camelback Mountain area.

Rosenthal wasn't tripped up until he attempted to cash a $1,500 cheque today and deposited another $3,500. A cashier at the bank became suspicious and called police. Moore arrested the man as he was leaving the bank.

Missouri Ravages Dakotas

Dikes Smashed In Three States

SOUTH SIOUX CITY, Nebraska, April 10 (BUP)—The rampaging Missouri River has broken through a dike holding back the 19-foot-high flood crest. Flood waters are pouring through the residential section of South Sioux City, Nebraska.

Meanwhile at Pierre, south Dakota, a 25-foot crest of the Missouri surged toward the town where the muddy waters already had burst through dikes and swept into the city in the worst Missouri flood in "modern history."

Nearly 1,600 were homeless as the waters rushed in and covered a 34-block area.

PROTECT POWER PLANT

Sandbag crews worked throughout the night to raise a bulwark against the rising waters around the city's power plant.

Across the Missouri at Fort Pierre, 80 per cent of that city was under water. Furniture, lumber, cooking gas bottles and other debris floated through the main street in the back waters of the flood.

The scene was much the same along the length of the Missouri, especially in the south where it forms the boundary between Iowa and Nebraska.

A fresh company of Iowa national guardsmen were ordered to join three other companies of soldiers at Sioux City, Ia., was declared an emergency area.

Mayor Ralph Henderson of Sioux City urged residents to "exercise every effort to protect your families and property" because of the "unprecedented threat of floods."

The entire upper midwest in the states of Minnesota, Nebraska and the Dakotas either was flooded already or threatened with floods in its river valleys.

RECORD CRESTS

In Minnesota, the Mississippi, the Red River of the north and the La Cui Parle River all were on the rampage, and record crests were predicted within a week.

The total number of homeless in the area approached the 3,000 mark. Thousands of acres of farmland were under water.

Announcement Follows Meeting of Cabinet

By GORDON FORBES, Times Legislative Reporter
British Columbia's 22nd Legislature was dissolved today and Premier Byron Johnson announced the provincial election will be held Thursday, June 12.

An order-in-council dissolving the Legislature was passed at a Cabinet meeting this morning. Nomination day will be May 22, and the voters' list will close April 30.

Dissolution of the House will swing into high gear the political campaigning, which has been under way ever since the election was promised during the recent session of the House following the break-up of B.C.'s 10-year-old Coalition of Liberals and Conservatives.

It ended the life of Premier Johnson's government after two years and 10 months in office. The administration began as the Johnson-Anscomb Coalition and ended as almost wholly a Liberal government, with the support of three straight Coalitionists.

NEW DEPARTURE
The coming election will mark the first time since 1941 that Liberals and Conservatives have appealed to the electors as separate parties. In 1945 and 1949 elections they were together as Coalitionists.

It will also mark a new departure in B.C.'s political life, the use of the alternative voting system, in which voters can indicate their choice of candidates in order of preference.

It will also see the Social Credit party in the field as a major factor. At dissolution, the House membership is divided as follows: 23 Liberals, 11 Conservatives, eight C.C.F., three straight Coalitionists, one independent labor, and two independents—for a total of 48.

In the last three years, since the last election, there was only one by-election—in Esquimalt last October—the C.C.F. taking the seat from the Liberals.

Bolivia Revolt Reported Over; Rebels Defeated

LIMA, Peru, April 10 (AP)—A Bolivian radio broadcast said today the revolt against the military government of Gen. Hugo Ballivan was defeated and that its leaders offered to surrender.

This coincided with information received in Buenos Aires saying a battle was raging in the center of La Paz, the Bolivian capital, and the forces of the National Revolutionary Party were being defeated.

The Bolivian embassy in Buenos Aires got its information from Arica, Chile, where first word came Wednesday that a revolution had broken out.

The rebels are backers of Victor Paz Estenssoro, exiled leader of the National Revolutionary Party who won the most votes among six candidates in last year's presidential elections but never gained office.

Brig-Gen. Antonio Seleme, interior minister in the military junta, turned against his fellow officers and helped lead the revolt which began at dawn Wednesday. At least 18 persons were killed and 60 injured during the first day's fighting.

Trading slackened at Vancouver Stock Exchange in the last session today as buyers postponed commitments until after the holiday, although prices in all sections of the market stayed strong.

Among the western oils, leading issues were steady and a few gains were registered. Britisha stayed around $7; Pacific Petroleum $12.50, off slightly; Home $16; Okalta strong at $4.70; Federated Petroleum $12.25.
